

THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

VOL. XXV.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1911

NO. 14

RESCUE MAN FROM FLAMES

Stupified by Smoke He Was Unable to Make His Way
Out After Entering

ORIGIN OF FIRE A MYSTERY

Wife and Children Were at a Thanksgiving Party While Their Home
Was Burning.

While a Thanksgiving feast was in progress a few doors away, at which Mrs. Wm. Corser and three children were present fire nearly totally destroyed the Corser home on Lewis avenue, Waukegan, and came near claiming a victim in the person of Wm. Corser, who was alone in the house.

It was about 6 o'clock in the evening when fire was discovered. Mrs. Corser and three children were at the home of Thomas Higginbotham and Mr. C. R. Corser had been there earlier in the day.

As soon as the fire was discovered, neighbors rushed to the house and found that the second story was fast falling a prey to the devouring flames. Then one thought of Mr. Corser. He had been seen to enter the house, but none saw him leave it.

George Toufouse of the west side rushed into the house and began a frantic search for Corser only to find him stupified with smoke, and the results of Thanksgiving celebration, which he had taken down town. Picking the almost unconscious form upon his shoulder, Toufouse made his way through the smoke and flames and finally deposited his burden on the ground outside the house.

Corser escaped with his life only through the bravery of the man who carried him from the house. Had the rescuer waited a few moments longer, it is certain that death would have followed in the wake of the conflagration, as even as it was Mr. Corser sustained a badly scorched face and hands.

The origin of the fire is still a mystery. Corser, it is believed entered the house while, it is claimed, under the influence of liquor and finding the interior in darkness lighted a lamp and made his way to the second floor to lie down and sleep.

It is believed by the neighbors that in stumbling around the room Corser upset the lamp and the interior furnishings of the house were soon a mass of flames.

The homeless wife and children were taken to the home of Mr. Corser's sister, Mrs. Thomas Higginbotham, and Corser was cared for by the neighbors.

The second floor of the home was entirely ruined by the time the fire department arrived.

President's Taft's Message

Following our plan to give the readers of the News the best paper possible we run in this issue President Taft's message to Congress. Whether you are a Republican, Democrat, Progressive or Independent you will be interested in Taft's recommendations on the Trust Question. He makes many suggestions and plans covering the regulation, through Legislation, of the trusts. Turn to the message on another page of the News and read just what President Taft thinks on the Standard Oil and Tobacco decisions.

You will always find the News each week contains some feature or articles of particular interest to you.

After the Classics.

"Now that the guests have gone," said the eminent pianist, "let's have a little rag-time and enjoy ourselves."

Tourists in Switzerland.

Travelers in Switzerland average about 500,000 a year, of which number about six per cent. are Americans.

Not Always.

Opportunity doesn't always present an engraved calling card.

Grumbler's Power Small.

Rarely is the grumbler a member of methods.

Plato's Philosophy.

Self conquest is the greatest of all victories.—Plato.

NOV. WEATHER REPORT

Furnished By J. C. James, the Local Weather Man

Nov. 1911.—Warmest day 73 on the 11th, and Coldest day 8 above on the 29th. Average temperature 32.05. Rainfall, 5.29 inches. 4 inches snow on 20th.

Nov. 1910.—Warmest day 62 on the 9th. Coldest day 17 above on the 30th. Average temperature 32.58. Rainfall 2 inches. Snow flurries on the 22.

Nov. 1909.—Warmest day 68 on the 13th. Coldest day 16 on the 22. Average temperature 44.35. Total rain fall 3.23 inch. 2 inches on 22.

Nov. 1908.—Warmest day 67 on the 19th. Coldest day 9 above on the 15th. Average temperature 38.81. Total rain fall 2.70 inch. 1 inch snow on 14th.

Nov. 1907.—Warmest day 46 on the 27. Coldest day 14 above on the 14th. Average temperature 36.33. Rainfall 1.87 inches. 1 inch snow on 2.

Nov. 1906.—Warmest day 64 on the 7th. Coldest day 20 above on the 14th. Average temperature 37.82. Total rain fall 3.10 inches. Snow flurries 21.

Nov. 1905.—Warmest day 63 on the 28th. Coldest day 8 on the 30th. Average temperature 36.26. Total rainfall 1.70 inch. 1 inch snow on 7th.

Nov. 1904.—Warmest day 69 on the 1st. Coldest day 15 above on the 30th. Average temperature 39.80. No snow.

Nov. 1903.—Warmest day 69 on the 3rd. Coldest day 3 above on the 20th. Average temperature 34.06. Total rainfall 70.100 inches. 2 inches snow 28.

Nov. 1902.—Warmest day 68 on the 2d. Coldest day 28 above on the 31th. Average temperature 42.61. Rainfall 1.80 inches. Snow flurries on 26th.

Nov. 1901.—Warmest day 70 on the 1st. Coldest day 13 on the 17th. Average temperature 35. Total rain fall 68.100 inch. 11 inches snow on 23rd.

Past November holds the record for the warmest day of which I have record, and with the exception of 1908, the coldest day also breaks the record on average temperature, being the lowest on record, the rain fall was the greatest also of any November recorded here.

INDEPENDENT AND WAUKEGAN SUN CHANGE HANDS

With the entrance of the month of December the Waukegan Sun and the Libertyville Independent, two of Lake Counties foremost newspapers, passed from the ownership of Frank H. Just into that of a stock company incorporated by William J. and Frank G. Smith and Alex. Beaubien. The new company will be known as the Lake County Publishing Company, and will be controlled by the Smith brothers, who have the controlling shares and who will also have entire charge of the two publications. The names of the papers will however remain unchanged.

Mr. Just one of the most enterprising newspaper men that Lake county has ever had states that he is to retire from the newspaper field and that after spending the winter months in California he will devote his time to looking after his land interests in Montana.

The new proprietors need no introduction to the reading public being known throughout the county as former proprietors of the Waukegan Gazette which they disposed of about six months ago.

HARRY KELLY MARRIED ON THANKSGIVING

Harry Kelly, trouble man for the Chicago Telephone Company sprung a little surprise on his Antioch friends last week by quietly leaving town and joining the ranks of the benedictines. On Thanksgiving morning he was united in marriage to Miss Ella Edwards of Dixon, Ill., at the Catholic parsonage in that city.

After spending a couple of days with relatives at Aurora, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly returned on Friday evening to Antioch where they will make their home.

His many Antioch friends unite in extending a hearty welcome to his bride and in wishing them the best that life affords.

Hard to Bear.

It is always painful to see somebody else feeling the public.

Fate's Grim Humor.

A pauper murderer in a German prison has just fallen heir to $5,000,000.

Town's Claim to Prominence.

The town of Grasso in France is one of the largest centers for the manufacture of perfume.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Frightened by Threatening
Letters Young Foreign
Girl Seeks Death

FEARED BEING DEPORTED

Her Refusal to Marry Brother-in-Law was the Cause of His Sending Many Threatening Missives

Ignorant of the laws of the country, threatened to be deported back to Germany and frightened to the point of hysteria and insanity by a threatening letter, said to have been received from her brother-in-law, Rosa Lauter, 19 years of age, a comely blonde, attempted to kill herself early Saturday night by shooting herself in the head.

Rosa had been in this country but a short time. She went to work for Mrs. George Cessar, corner of Lake and South Genesee streets, Waukegan, a few months ago, and immediately upon her arrival here, it was noticed that she received letters marked West Allis, near Milwaukee.

Every letter, when read would leave the girl in tears and she would start and appear frightened every time a knock came at the door of the home. On Saturday she received another and unable to stand up under the strain any longer, poured a pathetic story into the sympathetic ears of Mrs. Cessar.

It appears that a brother-in-law of Miss Lauter, named Marko Peisch, lived at West Allis and having lost his wife a few months ago about the time of the arrival of the girl. Immediately upon the death of his wife, it appears, Peisch started to look around for another help mate, and hearing of the arrival of his sister-in-law, wrote and asked her to marry him.

This she refused to do and claims that upon her refusal, the brother-in-law began to write threatening letters stating that he had evidence that she was not of the best character and that he would have her deported back to her homeland unless she would come and marry him.

Several letters, each more threatening than the last, it is claimed, passed from West Allis to the frightened girl and on Saturday the climax came in the shape of another letter.

The girl was frightened. She believed she faced arrest and imprisonment unless she married him and this she flatly refused to do. Going upstairs to a bed room, where in cleaning she had seen a revolver, she procured the weapon and attempted to shoot herself.

The shot went wild and passed through the ceiling of the house and into the attic. Mrs. Cessar, hearing the shot, rushed to the upper room, and found the girl lying on the floor, in a swoon, but uninjured.

The police of the city were notified and upon their assurance that the girl would not come to harm through her alleged enemy, she regained her composure. Should letters continue to come, it is said the matter will be taken with the authorities of West Allis and the men arrested.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Through the wisdom of the Supreme Ruler of this universe the cold hand of death has stricken from our midst our esteemed brother, William H. Hucker, Therefore be it

Resolved, That we the members of Antioch Chapter No. 428 O. E. S. extend to the bereaved wife and children our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this their dark hour of grief and affliction, and be it further

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions sent to the bereaved family as well as spread upon the records of our Chapter and sent to The Antioch News for publication.

Lettie Johnson,
Louise Huber,
Minnie Lux,

Victory Not for the Sluggard.
The privileged boy must wake up, or he will be left behind by the poor boy.

JUDGE FAVORS TOWN

Goes Deeply Into Question of Contributory Negligence And
Failure to Fix Damage

A NEW TRIAL WAS DENIED

The Case was Settled by Judge Belden Last Tuesday Morning In Favor of the Defendant

Judge E. B. Belden, of the circuit court, closed up the Salem road case as far as that court is concerned, Tuesday morning, when he handed down a decision denying the motions made by the plaintiff for changes in answers in the special verdict, and for a new trial and ordered a judgement on the verdict in favor of the defendant, the town.

The case was tried in the circuit court of Walworth county and the jury found for the town against the plaintiff, John R. Gibson, father of Harvey Gibson, who was killed in the automobile accident. In his decision the judge goes especially into the question of contributory negligence and into the fact that the jury failed to fix any amount of damages. In these questions the court decides in favor of the town.

In the Collier case the jury found that Collier was not chargeable with contributory negligence in operating the automobile. I felt it to be the duty of the court, upon Collier's own testimony, in that case, to change that and remarked in doing so, that the case was in perfect shape for final judgment one way or the other that if the trial court was not justified in charging that finding then the plaintiff was entitled to judgment.

The supreme court said that the trial court was not justified in handing that finding, that the matter of contributory negligence in the case is for the jury and still of its own motion ordered a new trial. The testimony concerning want of ordinary care on the part of Collier in driving the automobile at the time and place in question is not so strong in the instant case as it was in the Collier case.

The question of contributory negligence is, to my mind a much more debatable question in this case than it was in the Collier case and had the jury found in this case that Collier was not chargeable with want of ordinary care I would have no disposition to disturb that finding. The jury might have found either way; two juries have so found. This establishes a situation about which reasonable minds might differ, and therefore precludes the trial court from interfering with the finding. "I think the motion to change the answer to that question must be denied."

WILLIAM HOLT INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Wm. Holt, the Libertyville merchant indicted for operating a confidence game will not be sent to the penitentiary. Holt is charged with having feloniously and willfully obtained from Frederick Enderlin the sum of $48.60, by means of a confidence game. Holt and Enderlin were engaged in the manufacture of wollen dusters at Libertyville. When Holt was quarantined at his home with scarlet fever, Enderlin audited the company's records. He claims he found a shortage. It is believed that Holt will plead guilty to the charge and suffer a thirty-day sentence in the county jail.

A formal motion to quash the indictment was entered and this will be argued later. James G. Welch is named as the attorney in the case and Holt's bail was fixed at $2,000.

Britain's Tongues.

Within the narrow compass of the British Isles no fewer than seven languages are spoken. They are English, Welsh, Erse (in Ireland), Manx (in the Isle of Man, where, until recently, church services were conducted in that tongue), Gaelic (in Scotland), French in the Channel Islands, and Cornish in Cornwall. Though the total for his own islands is seven tongues, yet to the Englishman, said to be the poorest linguist in the world.

FAIR ASSOCIATION ELECTS

For the First Time in its History There was No Competition

The Lake County Fair association held its annual meeting and election of officers at Libertyville, Wednesday afternoon and for the first time in the history of the association there was no contest for the offices. The ticket that was placed in the field was unopposed. Seventy-nine ballots were cast and of this number nine were scratched. There were about one hundred in attendance, the small attendance being attributed to the fact that there was no competition for the various offices. The officers elected and the vote received by them: President—Paul McGuffin, Libertyville, 72 votes.

First vice president—Herman Beck Antioch, 76 votes.

Second vice president—W. B. Smith, Waukegan, 76 votes.

Secretary—Ray Hubbard, Libertyville, 74 votes.

Treasurer—Roy Wright, Libertyville, 76 votes.

Directors—Fred Battershall, Grayslake, 76; Freeman Clew, Grunee, 76; Wm. Vickery, Rockefeller, 69; John Austin, Libertyville, 74; James Clarke, Libertyville, 73.

W. E. Smith, retiring president of the association had held the office for six consecutive years. Two years prior to that he had held the office for two terms. He was not a candidate for re-election.

The following men acted as tellers at the meeting—R. B. Epker, O. E. Churchill and Daniel Lee. At present there is $140.73 in the treasury of the association.

WOMAN IS ADJUDGED INSANE

Mary Ames age 68 years who is better known in the village of Russell as "Mother Goose," was adjudged insane by a jury in the county court Friday and committed to the Illinois state hospital for the insane at Elgin, by County Judge Persons.

Since the death of her husband seven years ago, Mrs. Ames has lived the life of a hermit.

In response to her cry for assistance at mid-night Wednesday a neighbor entered her domicile and found her lying on the steel springs of an overturned couch. The aged woman thought that there was a man sleeping under the couch so she turned it over in the hopes of crushing him to death. When the neighbor entered her home Mrs. Ames begged him to search the garret of the two-story frame house for two distant relatives. She said the two men were hiding in the attic of the house to kill her at daybreak.

The aged woman was taken to the insane asylum at Elgin by Sheriff Elmer Green.

A WORD TO CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

Pursuant with the president of former years we are at this time busily engaged in getting out our annual Christmas edition. In order that the ads therein contained may be circulated at an early date and both the advertiser and the purchaser benefited thereby, we have decided to issue this edition next week, December 14.

In these ads will be found many helpful suggestions for the Christmas shopper. Articles ornamental, useful, expensive or cheap are therein set forth for your inspection, and a careful perusal of these pages can not fail to give suggestions to suit every taste and to fit every purse.

The merchants whose ads appear are making an effort to secure your patronage and we would suggest that you make their places your headquarters for your Christmas shopping.

Primitive Race.

In the more inaccessible parts of the Sierra Madre mountains in northern Mexico live a curious people called the Tarahumara. Many of them dwell in caves, but they have also small villages, all of them about 8,000 feet above sea level. The Tarahumara are small in body, but possessed of much endurance. Their only food is maize, and they manufacture a drink called teshtun from the same cereal. Their language is limited to about 300 words, and they cannot count beyond ten.

Ended the Dry Spell.

She had a voice like a siren, and when she sang, "Mid play sure, and palaces, tho' hoam a rome. Be it averso oh wum bull there, snow play dly comb," and so on to the conclusion, there wasn't a dry eye in the room.

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED

Arrested Horse Thief Tells of the Murder of Chaucer
Wennerstrom

DISPUTE OVER FARE IS CAUSE

Tells of Shooting and of weighing the Body and Afterward Casting it
Into the Fox River

Two men are now being held in the County jail on charges of horse stealing. One of them is said to have admitted firing the shot which killed Wennerstrom, in whose taxicab they were riding. This prisoner, whose name is said to be Knapp, is being held there with another prisoner known as Bellkamp. The former implicated Bellkamp, Allen and two other men now being sought for in a small town in Michigan.

The confession of this man is said to have declared the murder of Wennerstrom who lived at 3167 North Clark street and had a stand in front of the county building grew out of a dispute over the amount of money demanded by him for the trip.

In the quarrel which followed the five men, all alleged to be horse thieves, attacked Wennerstrom and Knapp is said to have shot him in the head and to hide to the crime the body with the feet weighted was cast into Fox river. Wennerstrom disappeared Aug. 31, and his body was found Sept. 3, after the taxicab had been taken from the river near the scene of the murder.

Knapp and Bellkamp were arrested on charges of horse stealing three weeks ago and when questioned by the Lake County sheriff the former is said to have broken down and in the course of his admissions told of the Wennerstrom murder implicating Bellkamp.

The latest developments in the Knapp-Knapp horse stealing case came Tuesday when the two men requested to be interviewed by newspaper men. Alawood was the spokesman and he denied pointblank several of the statements credited to him by Attorney Joslin and denied that he had been implicated in the murder of Wennerstrom at Cary, Ill., following the robbery of the highwood postoffice. He denied also that he had been with the gang, saying that he was with another division of the same gang in an Indiana city on the night in question and had helped to rob a postoffice there.

While Alawood says he has been given to understand that his partner Knapp, shot and killed Wennerstrom, the latter in a private confession to the police assert that he did not fire the fatal shot, blaming the crime on James Munzer of Coldwater, Mich.

Alawood is very bitter against State Attorney Joslin, claiming that the latter promised that if he made a confession that he would give him $500 and see that Knapp got out within fourteen years in the penitentiary for the alleged murder of Wennerstrom.

Another alleged murder may be laid at the door of the men is seen from a statement made by Alawood. He says that members of his own gang shot Hunter because the latter reproved Knapp for the alleged killing of Wennerstrom.

The shot did not kill Hunter, he was taken to a little railroad shack near South Chicago where he died in three or four days. Then a large piece of railroad iron was attached to his feet and his body was dropped in the lake.

Following are members of the gang who were implicated in several robberies: Edward Allen, Chicago; John Lynch, Chicago; Hunter, Chicago; James Munzer, and Geo. Biran, both of Coldwater, Mich.

A telegram from Woodstock stated that Allen had been given a hearing and was held to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

State's Attorney Dady stated that Knapp admitted to him that he shot Wennerstrom on that eventful night. The party of five started for Cary, Ill., when at the Fox River near that place, Wennerstrom refused to go further.

Knapp then claimed that he ordered Wennerstrom to go ahead but he refused and then Knapp drew his revolver.

(Continued on Fourth Page)

ANTIOCH NEWS

A. D. JOHNSON, Publisher

ANTIOCH

ILLINOIS

NOT MISLEADING TO ANYONE

Ithaca Boy Decided to Omit the Year in Stamping the State Eggs.

Assemblyman Brennan, author of the Brennan cold-storage law, was talking in Albany about a dealer who objected to the labeling of cold-storage products.

"This man's objection to the words 'cold-storage' on cold-storage goods," said Mr. Brennan, "recall vividly to my mind an Ithaca boy."

"The boy had gone in for chicken raising, and had done well. He possessed an egg-stamping stamp. You could always tell, when you bought an egg from him, whether it would be best to eat it soft-boiled or to use it as a political missile."

"But the football season came on, eggs got high and scarce, and the boy began to waver in his virtue."

"And one day, while he was still waverling, he found under a hedge a whole nestful of eggs. He took them home and showed them to his mother."

"I don't know what to do with them," he said doubtfully.

"Well, break one," said his mother. "That will give you some idea of their date."

"So the boy broke one of the eggs, and the odor was as though a sewer had burst."

"Let's see," said his mother. "This is November 10. Date them November 10, 1910."

"But the boy, as he got out his egg-stamping machine, answered:

"No; they might have been laid in 1903 or even in 1908. I'll just date them November 10, without the year. Then I'll mislead nobody."

Wiley Witticism.

The night that famous men debated, at the National Press club, in Washington, on whether whiskers or baldness formed the greater handicap to great careers, the speeches were limited to ten minutes each, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the pure food expert, was timekeeper.

"Only one more minute!" he called out to Representative Nicholas Longworth, who was arguing that a bald head is a fine thing to carry through the world.

"Does that minute include these unsolicited interruptions?" asked Longworth.

"You bet it does," replied Wiley. "So far the interruptions have been the best part of the speeches."—Popular Magazine.

Clothes and the Sun.

Study of animals seems to show that near the equator is needed the kind of clothing that will keep the sun from the body, while in colder countries the body needs clothing which does not tend to keep so much sun out. In hot climates the natives seek the shade and stop work during the heat of the day, and animals also keep under cover; even the monkeys, at home in the tropics, goes into the depths of the forest where the sun-hottest rays cannot penetrate to any extent. Dr. Aron states that the monkey, a native of the tropics, is worse hurt by the sun's rays than any other animal, not excluding the white man himself.

Bumper Apple Crop.

The apple crop of Nova Scotia this year exceeds in quality and quantity that of all previous years. It is now claimed that 1,500,000 barrels will be gathered. Up to the middle of October 300,000 barrels had been shipped to England, and many carloads to Winnipeg. The growers complain of the lack of labor and have difficulty in procuring barrels to make their shipments.

Forty Winks.

Comparatively few women have the time to take a delightful afternoon rest with their hair down, but there are frequent moments in which a helpful little "catnap" can be taken. For a "catnap" one does not really have to lose consciousness; but one must drift dreamily on the verge of unconsciousness and every muscle and nerve must be relaxed. The business woman who, instead of running her eyes over a book on the journey in train or car to her home every night, will take the opportunity for a restful "catnap" will be much fresher for the evening's task or play.

Deceptive Appearances.

Nell—Why do you turn up your nose at her?

Belle—She's an artist's model.

Nell—Well, even an artist's model may not be as bad as she is painted.

No Response.

"Did that patient you were telling me about respond to your treatment?" asked the doctor's neighbor.

"Not yet," responded the physician. "I've sent him four bills already."

His Meaning.

"You pride yourself on your truthfulness, and yet you complimented that snail, curdled-looking girl on her complexion of peaches and cream!"

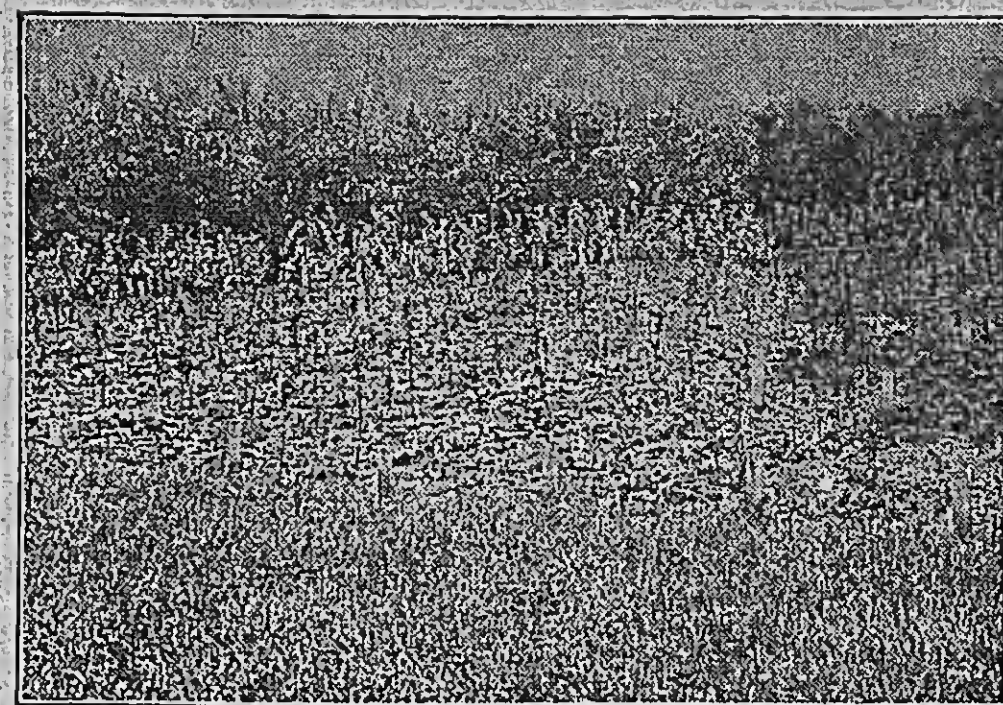

"Ah, but I meant yellow peaches and sour cream."

Delicate Insinuation.

"Do you approve of this proposition—that all babies should be killed in their childhood?"

"Indeed, my dear sir, I would not be so rude as to answer that question to your face."

RIGHT KINDS OF FRUIT TREES FOR PLANTING IN THE FARM ORCHARD

One and Two-Year-Old Apple Trees Propagated From Some of Illinois' Best Bearing Trees.

By E. W. BAILEY,
University of Illinois.

No live farmer can afford to be without a farm orchard containing a variety of fruits to supply the table during the growing season, and sauce, jellies, etc., for the winter. No longer is fruit considered as a luxury, but rather as a necessary article of daily food. In the growing of apples, pears, peaches, or any other kind of tree fruits, there are two things to which the farmer must give careful consideration provided the right kind of fruit trees are to be planted in the farm orchard: First, he must plant proper varieties; second, he must plant properly propagated trees of these varieties.

No variety of tree fruit can be profitably planted in any orchard, unless it has the special fruit characteristics which are desired and is at the same time adapted to the particular local environmental conditions. Probably no two sections of our country grow the same varieties of fruits to the same degree of excellence, every section having its own environment. Varieties which reach their maximum development under one set of conditions fall far below their maximum development when planted under different environmental conditions. The varieties grown in the Mississippi river valley are entirely different from those grown in the eastern states. Now varieties and novelties are not for the average farmer to plant. Standard, thoroughly tested varieties, which are known to be reliable, are the best and safest to grow.

Having decided upon the varieties best suited to one's conditions, how is the average farmer to know and obtain properly propagated trees of these varieties? The initial cost of young fruit trees is by no means the first consideration in purchasing nursery stock. Cheap stock is very cheap as a rule, while properly propagated, properly grown and higher priced stock is by far the cheapest when you consider the net returns. One thoroughbred cow is worth more than two scrubs that do not pay for the food they consume. So with tree fruits, one properly propagated tree, bearing an abundance of high quality fruit, is of infinitely more value than a whole orchard of improperly propagated, unbearing trees.

With fruits, all the trees of any one variety have a common origin, being literally parts of the original tree of this particular variety. Thus, the fruit tree should really be considered not as an individual, but rather as a collection of individuals, the bud being the unit. Every one of these buds had stored up within itself the characters of the variety, but owing to the different conditions of light, air, food supply, etc., no two buds on the same tree are subjected to quite the same conditions. Hence, there arises a constant and intense struggle for existence, and there are all degrees of development found. In these different buds. Some branches will be large and vigorous, others small and weak; some will produce fruit freely, others will be barren. If buds are taken from the branches which produce fruit freely and are used in propagating, a series of prolific trees will be established. On the other hand, if propagating buds are used from the barren branches, a series of worthless trees will be established.

The observing orchardist knows that some trees in his orchard bear little or no fruit and that others of the same variety bear abundantly. Of these most prolific and abundantly bearing trees there is usually one that is better than all the rest. Trees that are propagated from parental trees which have proven for several years their ability to produce an abundance of high quality fruit are sure to have these characteristics. Moreover, trees propagated from unbearing, poor quality, unprofitable parental trees are just as sure to have these poor characteristics. Most nurserymen take their propagating buds promiscuously from bearing trees, barren trees, and nursery stock of unknown character, and as a result a large proportion of the farm orchards all over this country contain trees which do not pay the interest on the land.

The right kind of fruit trees to plant in the farm orchard, then, must be varieties best adapted to one's particular environmental conditions, having characteristics of tree and fruit approximating closest one's personal tastes. Only one and two year old trees should be bought, and these from a reliable nurseryman who guarantees to select carefully his propagating buds and scions from high yielding and high quality bearing trees. No farmer can afford to plant trees and then wait several years only to find he has unbearing, poor quality trees. Buy and plant the "right kind" of trees and you will then know that you are going to get good yields of high quality fruit.

ADVICE ON FEEDING OF THE DAIRY COW

By C. C. HYDEN,
University of Illinois.

In the production of milk there are four factors which are of prime economic importance.

1. Cows must be secured which are capable of producing large quantities of milk and butter fat.
2. These cows must be properly housed and cared for.
3. There must be a feeder who has good judgment.
4. Sufficient food of the proper quality must be supplied.

The last is equal in importance to the first. The best way to obtain good cows is by careful selection and breeding of animals from one of the recognized dairy breeds or their grades. "Scrub" cows have no place in profitable milk production. On the other hand, no matter how carefully cows are selected, nor how well bred, if poorly fed, they will give little better returns than "scrubs."

To become a good feeder requires a knowledge of the needs of the dairy cow and of the nature of different feeds. This means that the man, who is to become a successful feeder, must be willing to spend time and energy in studying the details of these subjects. The cow is a business partner, not easily defrauded. If she is the right kind of cow, supplied with the proper materials, she will return a just amount of product, and if proper feed and care are withheld, she will withhold the desired product. Food of the right kind and amount is absolutely necessary to any considerable degree of production. The question most commonly asked is, "What is the best feed for dairy cows?" This question may seem simple and easy to answer, but it is really quite difficult. No definite short rule can be given which will serve as a guide under all conditions nor can rotation be given which will apply in all cases. Therefore, the best we can do is to put into the hands of the feeder the methods whereby he can work out these problems for himself, and the sooner he realizes this fact the better it will be for his bank account. (The proper use of the head saves both muscle and money.)

What feeds can and should be grown on the farm is a question of first importance to the dairyman. It is time that all dairymen begin to farm to feed dairy cows instead of feeding dairy cows simply to dispose of their crops. Feeds grown on the farm are essentially the cheapest, if they can be successfully grown, because all feeds must be grown on some farm, and to feeds purchased must be added the expense of transportation and transport. In making the above statement it is recognized that home grown feeds cannot always be depended upon alone, and that it becomes necessary to purchase feeds to fill out or supply protein which may not be sufficient in the home grown feeds. It is also true that some crops can be grown well on our farms, which are not suited for feeding to dairy cows and which would be expensive if used for that purpose. These should be sold and other feeds purchased.

The best crops to grow on the dairy farm of Illinois seem to be the following: Of the grains, corn, oats, barley, rye, emmer (speltz), and possibly soy beans; of the roughage, corn stover, clover, alfalfa, cow peas, beans, field pea and oats, millet, sorghum and pasture; of the succulent feeds, silage, mangel and sugar beet. Under ordinary conditions Illinois dairymen are hardly warranted in going outside of the above crops for dairy feeds to be grown on the farm. If dairying is the chief business on the farm, and if profit is the aim, it is very important that every crop should be planned for years ahead, and substitute crops should be planted to take the place of any crop which may fail.

M'NAMARAS ADMIT DYNAMITE DEATHS

James B. Confesses He Blew Up Times Plant.

CAUSES SENSATION IN COURT

John J. Says He Is Guilty of Blowing Up Iron Works—Sentence of Defendants Set for December 5.

Los Angeles, Cal.—James B. McNamara pleaded guilty to a charge of murder preferred against him in connection with the dynamiting of the Times building.

At the same time his brother, John J. McNamara, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of blowing up the Llewellyn iron works.

The pleas ended the apparently hopeless task which state and defense had been engaged in of drawing a jury to hear the evidence in the cases.

Confessions a Surprise. The confessions came like a bombshell. It had been rumored that a sensation was brewing, but no one was prepared for what happened.

When court convened District Attorney Fredericks read the indictments and the court asked James B. McNamara if he withdrew his plea of not guilty. He said that he did. Asked whether he wanted to plead guilty to the murder as charged in the indictment, the prisoner said:

"I do, your honor."

McNamara then sank back in his chair, while the entire courtroom became as silent as a tomb.

"Then I will sentence J. B. McNamara to the penitentiary for two years and six months," said Judge Dwyer.

John J. Also Pleads Guilty. District Attorney Fredericks then rose with a big bunch of papers in his hand.

"John J. McNamara, stand up," he said.

"You have previously pleaded not guilty to a charge of placing dynamite under the Llewellyn iron works. Do you want to withdraw that plea?"

"I do, sir," said the labor leader.

"Now do you plead guilty to the indictment?"

"I do, sir," said McNamara. He, too, sank listlessly into his seat and Judge Dwyer announced that he would sentence him at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

In his confession to the charge against him, James McNamara said:

"I put dynamite under the Los Angeles Times, and it must have hit a gas main, because the terrible explosion which followed scared me more than it did anyone else."

"I was the most surprised man that ever lived, as I had not expected any great damage would be done."

The confessions have ended a struggle for the selection of a jury that is almost without a precedent in the annals of criminal courts in America.

Reason for Confession Withheld. Although they gave out a number of interviews, District Attorney Fredericks and his assistants refused to give any specific reason for the termination of the trial. They asserted that the cause was merely the fact that the evidence against the McNamaras was overwhelming and that an agreement had been reached.

Asked specifically whether any bargain had been made with the district attorney before the pleas were entered, Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, said he preferred not to answer the question.

"Any statement of what the district attorney will do should come from his office," Darrow added.

"There is nothing more than the fact that we were up against it. We had to act as we did. There was no way out. There was no last straw in the case. We were just up against it and had to do the best we could and we acted to save the lives of our clients."

Franklin's Case to Be Pushed. A significant thing about the case is the fact that the trial charges against Bert H. Franklin, the man accused of having bribed a valetman drawn for jury service in the case, is to be pushed. It was specially stated at the district attorney's office that this case was not to be dropped, but that instead, it would be prosecuted to the limit. Additional evidence, it was asserted, had been discovered and that this new evidence involves people who have not yet been dragged into the case. It was not determined, however, whether this matter would be pressed and whether others connected with the alleged bribery might be involved.

The defense is prepared to fight stubbornly for Franklin. It was definitely learned that no plan for pleading guilty in his case had been discussed.

Just Like Canada. "Tom, what is reciprocity?"

"It's this way, Mabel. I give you a hug and you give me a kiss. That's reciprocity. Will you do it?"

"I fear it might lead to annexation, and I don't know that I am prepared for that."

The Proof. "Your non-superstitious friend may be a sensible woman, but she's an old hen."

"Perhaps she is, but she laid a ghost."

ROCKEFELLER QUILTS

RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF OIL COMPANY AND RETIRES AS DIRECTOR.

FEW OF "OLD GUARD" LEFT

J. D. Archbold Becomes Head of Corporation—Many Other Changes Are Made at Directors' Meeting at New York.

New York.—John D. Rockefeller resigned as president and director of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. John D. Archbold was elected as Mr. Rockefeller's successor.

A majority of the officers and directors who for years have been associated with Mr. Rockefeller in the control of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey also handed in their resignations. These included: William Rockefeller, vice-president and director; C. M. Pratt, vice-president; William G. Rockefeller, assistant treasurer; H. C. Folger, Jr., secretary and assistant treasurer; Directors H. M. Flagler, L. J. Drake and E. T. Bedford.

Mr. Archbold, the new president, also resigned as vice-president. The board of directors is reduced from fourteen to nine members.

Two new vice-presidents were elected. They are A. C. Badford and W. C. Tangle. The other vice-president, J. A. Moffett, remains in office.

Mr. Rockefeller and his associates at the head of the Standard Oil Company of New York also resigned. H. C. Folger, Jr., was elected president of this company.

All the officers and directors of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey previously organized resigned from the boards of the various subsidiary companies on which they had been serving. Their successors will be elected at the next meetings of these companies.

BEEF CASES IN HIGH COURT

Packers' Counsel File Motion for Stay Until Sherman Anti-Trust Act Is Interpreted.

Washington.—The case of ten millionaires meat packers of Chicago, who seek to delay being brought to trial before Judge Carpenter at Chicago, was laid before the Supreme court of the United States.

John S. Miller and Levy Mayer appeared for the beef barons. They requested such a stay as will postpone the trial and urged the court to pass upon the constitutionality of the penal clause of the Sherman act before the case is heard.

In the motion made by Messrs. Miller and Mayer the future of all criminal prosecutions brought under the Sherman anti-trust statute are placed in jeopardy. The petitioners declare the law to be void. They assert the federal district court has no power to try them, and say they are being detained without authority of law.

They aver the Sherman act does not create or define any offense or crime. The "light or reason," as outlined in the Standard Oil and Tobacco decisions, is invoked by counsel for the meat packers. They allege that officers of corporations are now in perpetual jeopardy, subject to the shifting views of different juries, with "the shadow of the penitentiary forever over them."

The declared intention of President Taft to prosecute the trusts is cited by the packers as an additional reason why the criminal sections of the Sherman law should be given an early interpretation.

Solicitor General Lehmann announced that objection would be offered by the government to the petition of the packers.

CASH REGISTER CO. ACCUSED

Government Starts Suit in Ohio Charging Concern With Conspiracy and Restraint of Trade.

Cincinnati.—United States District Attorney Sherman T. McPherson and O. E. Harrison of the department of justice filed anti-trust proceedings alleging conspiracy in restraint of trade against the National Cash Register company of Dayton, O., its officers and managers.

The government complains that the corporation has resorted to illegal acts to eliminate, stifle and suppress other manufacturers and dealers throughout the United States, engaged in the business of making, selling and shipping in interstate commerce cash registers and other registering devices.

The government charges that the defendants have waged vicious, wrongful and unlawful wars of extermination against other competitors, and has driven them out of business, securing thereby about 95 per cent. of the cash register business.

Effort to Get Job Disastrous. New York.—Max Plotkin, a coat cutter, in his eagerness to apply for a job he had found advertised in the want column of a Jewish newspaper, tripped and fell headlong down a flight of stairs and will probably die from the effects of his fall.

Big Opium Den Raided. Philadelphia.—More than a score of Chinamen were arrested, and thousands of dollars' worth of opium confiscated in a spectacular raid on Chinatown by government agents.

ANNOYING ERUPTION ON PHILADELPHIA WOMAN'S FACE GONE

Mrs. Lippincott Gives the Inside Facts of Her Case.

Mrs. M. B. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, made a disclosure on June 1, which should be read by every man and woman. Not only that, but Mrs. Lippincott says that everyone should hear of the wonderful history of this particular case and profit as she did. Here is the story in her own words:

"About one month ago I was attracted by your advertisement in a local newspaper on the merits of your Resinol Soap."

"Having at that time a very annoying eruption on my face I purchased a cake of the Resinol Soap, and before it was half used the eruption disappeared entirely, the old skin peeled off and fresh new skin formed."

"I wish to thank you for placing within reach so meritorious an article, which I do not hesitate to recommend to my friends."

Not only is Resinol Soap highly effective in removing skin affections, but Resinol Ointment has no equal in relieving eczema, scalds and burns or any form of eruptive skin disease, as tetter, ringworm, barber's itch, eruptions of poison ivy, stings of poisonous insects, pimples, rash, sunburn, prickly heat, chafing, itching, blackheads, boils, scalds, burns, etc. Resinol Ointment comes in opal jars at fifty cents and a dollar. Sold by all druggists. Sample sent free if you mention heading of this ad. Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

WISE WORDS.

The Agent—Do you believe in advertising?

The Merchant—Yes, sir. It's better to be a live man in a dead town than a dead man in a live town.

It Sounded Well.

Horace Taylor, the artist, whose newspaper illustrations used to be admired here, came from Nokomis, Ill., in the Egypt district. In "Hod's" early days they organized a band in which he blew an inconsequential horn.

"We had a hard time naming the band," said Taylor. "However, as we were a thousand miles from the ocean and even a considerable distance from the great lakes, we called it the Marine Band of Nokomis."—Chicago Evening Post.

Accurately Informed.

"How is it that woman seems to know so much more about Europe than most of us?" said the frank and outspoken lady.

"Because," replied Miss Cayenne, "she stayed at home and read guide books instead of squandering her time in travel."

WORKS WITHOUT FAITH

Faith Came After the Works Had Laid the Foundation.

A Day State belle talks thus about coffee:

"Willie a coffee drinker I was a sufferer from indigestion and intensely painful nervous headaches, from childhood."

"Seven years ago my health gave out entirely. I grew so weak that the exertion of walking, if only a few feet, made it necessary for me to lie down. My friends thought I was marked for consumption—weak, thin and pale."

"I realized the danger I was in and tried faithfully to get relief from medicines, but, at last, after having employed all kinds of drugs, the doctor acknowledged that he did not believe it was in his power to cure me."

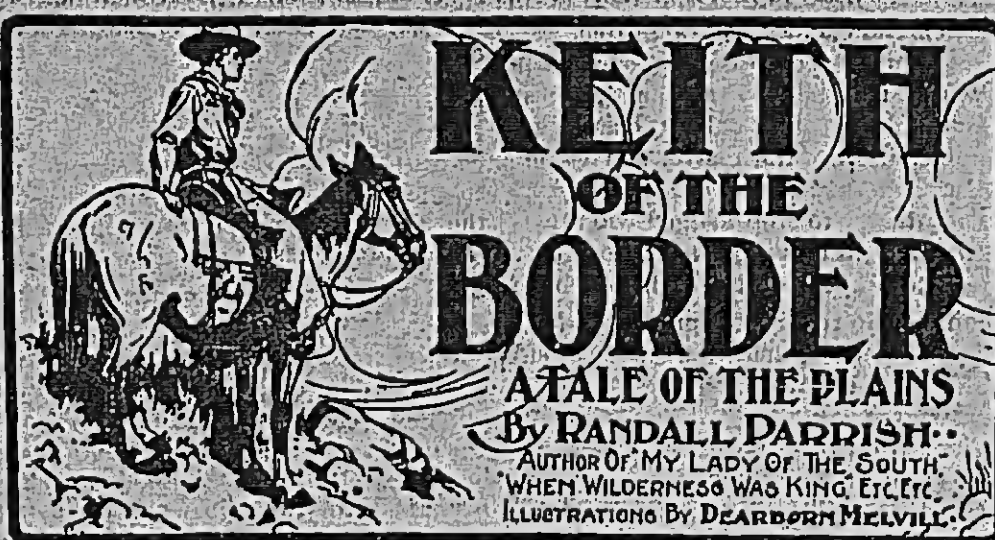

"While in this condition a friend induced me to quit coffee and try Postum, and I did so without the least hope that it would do me any good. I did not like it at first, but when it was properly made I found it was a most delicious and refreshing beverage. I am especially fond of it served at dinner ice-cold, with cream."

"In a month's time I began to improve, and in a few weeks my indigestion ceased to trouble me, and my headache stopped entirely. I am so perfectly well now that I do not look like the same person, and I have gained in flesh that I am 15 pounds heavier than ever before."

"This is what Postum has done for me. I still use it and shall always do so." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in 16 pages.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

KEITH OF THE BORDER

A TALE OF THE PLAINS
By RANDALL DARRISH
AUTHOR OF MY LADY OF THE SOUTH
WHEN WILDERNESS WAS KING, ETC., ETC.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEARBORN MEYER

(Copyright, A. C. McClurg & Co., 1910.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jack Keith, a Virginian, now a border plainman, is looking for roaming war parties of savages. He sees a wagon team at full gallop pursued by men on ponies. When Keith reaches the wagon the raiders have massacred two men and departed. He searches the victims finding papers and a lock of a woman's hair. Keith is arrested at Carson City, charged with the murder. His accuser being a ruffian named Black Bart. A negro companion in his cell named Noh tells him that he knew the Keiths in Virginia. Noh says one of the murdered men was John Bibbey, the other Gen. Willie Walte, formerly a Confederate officer. The plainman and Noh escape, and later the fugitives come upon a cabin and find its occupant to be a young girl, whom Keith thinks he saw at Carson City. The girl explains that she is in search of a brother, who had deserted from the army, and that a Mr. Howley induced her to come to the cabin while he sought her brother. Howley appears, and Keith in hiding recognizes him as Black Bart. There is a terrific battle in the darkened room in which Keith is victor. Heroes are appropriated, and the girl who says that her name is Hope joins in the escape. Keith explains his situation and the fugitives make for Fort Larned, where the girl is left with the hotel landlady. Miss Hope tells that she is the daughter of General Walte. Keith and Noh drift into Sheridan, where Keith meets an old friend, Dr. Fairbairn. Keith meets the brother of Hope Walte, under the assumed name of Fred Willoughby, and becomes convinced that Black Bart has some plot involving the town. Hope learns that Gen. Walte, who was thought murdered, is at Sheridan, and goes there, where she is mistaken for Christie Macaire, the Carson City singer.

CHAPTER XXI.—(Continued.)

He shouldered his way through the collected crowd, the other following. Hope endeavored to speak, to explain to Fairbairn who she actually was, realizing then, for the first time, that she had not previously given him her name. Amidst the incessant noise, and confusion, the blaring of brass, and the jangle of voices, she found it impossible to make the man comprehend. She pressed closer to him, holding more tightly to his arm, stunned and confused by the fierce uproar. The stranger steadily pushing ahead of them, and opening a path for their passage, fascinated her, and her eyes watched him curiously. His name was an oddly familiar one, associated in vague memory with some of the most desperate deeds ever witnessed in the West, yet always found on the side of law and order; it was difficult to conceive that this quiet-spoken, mild-eyed, gently smiling man could indeed be the most famous gun fighter on the border, hailed, feared, yet thoroughly respected, by every desperado. Between the Platte and the Canadian, beyond the glare and glitter of the Metropolitan Dance Hall, the noisy crowd thinned away somewhat, and the marshal ventured to drop back beside Fairbairn, yet vigilantly watched every approaching face.

"Town appears unusually lively to-night, Bill," observed the latter gravely, "and the boys have got an early start."

"West end graders just paid off," was the reply. "They have been whooping it up ever since noon, and are beginning to get ugly. Now the rest of the outfit are showing up, and there will probably be something interesting happening before morning. Wouldn't mind it so much if I had a single deputy worth his salt."

"What's the matter with him?"

"Nothing, while he was on the job, but 'Red' Haggerty got him in 'Pony Joe's' shebang two hours ago; shot him in the back across the bar. Ned never even pulled his gun."

"I'm sorry to hear that; what became of Haggerty?"

The marshal let his eyes rest questioningly on the doctor's face for an instant.

"Well, I happened to be just behind Ned when he went," he said gently, "and 'Red' will be buried on 'Boots Hill' to-morrow. I'm afraid I don't give you much chance to show your skill, Doc," with a smile.

"If they all shot like you do, my profession would be useless. What's the matter with your other deputies?"

"Lack of nerve, principally, I reckon; ain't one of 'em worth the powder to blow him up. I'd give something just now for a fellow I had down at Dodge—he was a man. Never had to tell him when to go in; good judgment too; wasn't out hunting for trouble, but always ready enough to take his share. Old soldier in our army, Captain, I heard, though he never talked much about himself; maybe you knew him—Jack Keith."

"Well, I reckon," in quick surprise, "and what's more to the point, he's here—sleeping in my room last night."

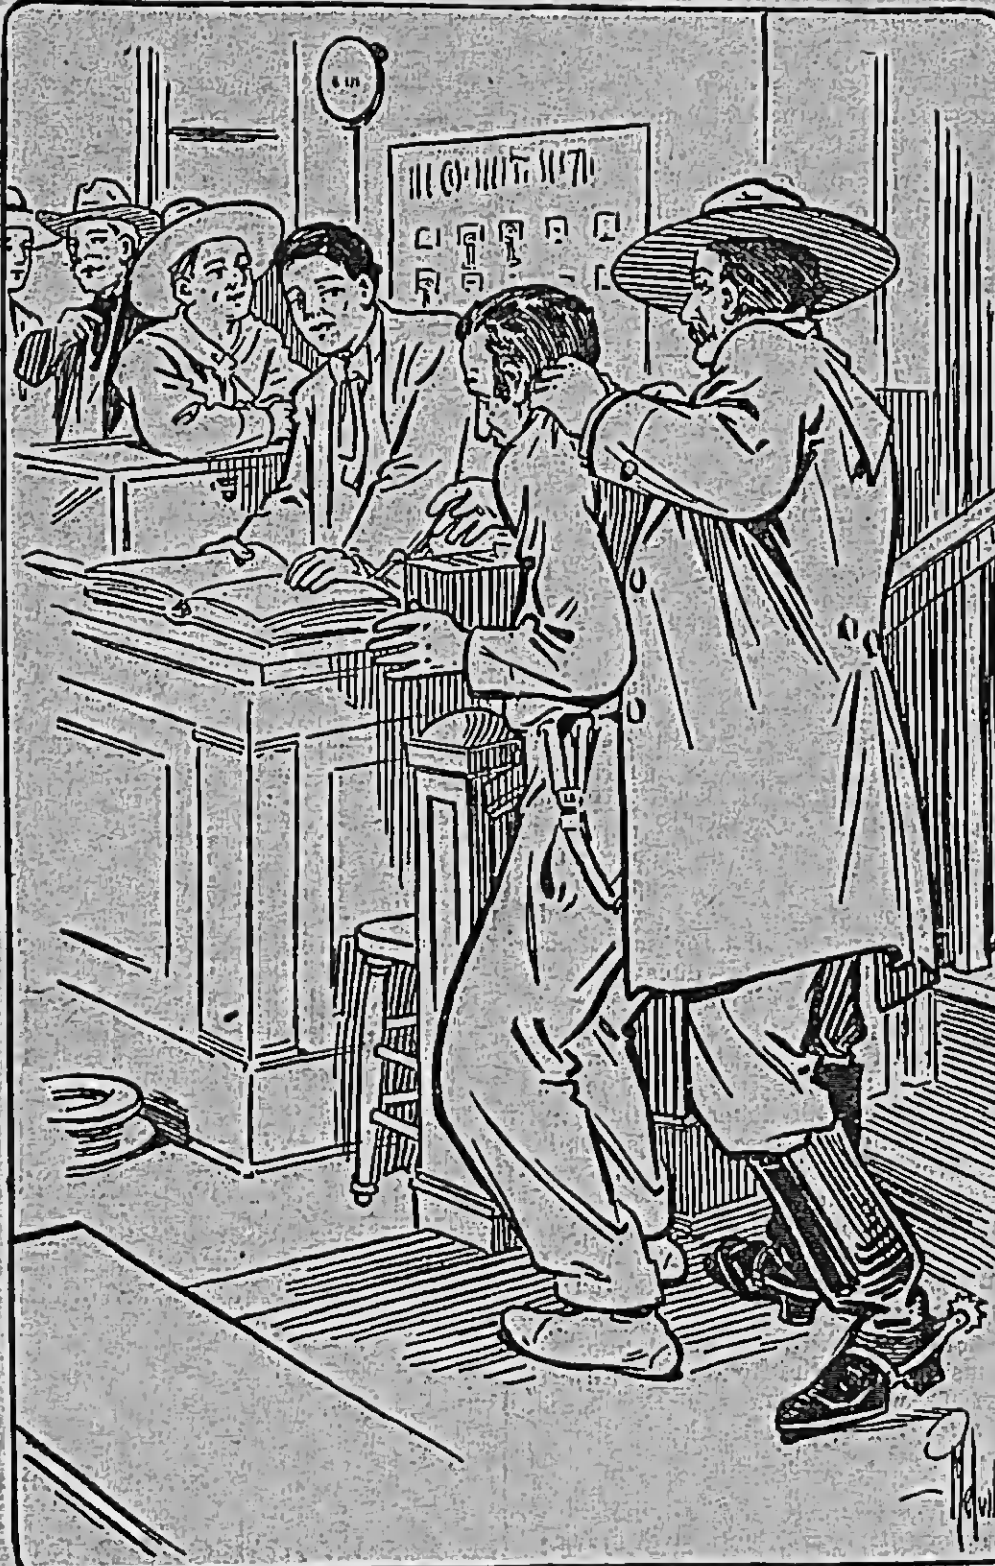

"Keith here? In Sheridan?"

"Hasn't even hunted me up yet? That's like him, all right, but I honestly want to see the boy. Herd's your hotel. Shall you need me any longer?"

"Better stop in with us, Bill," the doctor advised, "your moral influence might aid in procuring the lady a decent room."

"I'll reckon it might."

They passed together up the three rickety steps leading into the front hall, which latter opened directly into the cramped office; to the left was the wide open bar-room, clamorous and throbbing with life. A narrow bench stood against the wall, with a couple of half-drunk men lounging upon it. The marshal routed them out with a single expressive gesture.

"Any Other Room You Could Conveniently Assign Mr.—ah—Montgomery to Tommy?"

"Wait here with the lady, Fairbairn," he said shortly, "and I'll arrange for the room."

They watched him glance in at the bar, vigilant and enquiring, and then move directly across to the desk.

"Tommy," he said gently to the clerk, "I've just escorted a lady here from the train—Miss Macaire—and want you to give her the best room in your old shobang."

The other looked at him doubtfully.

"Hell, Bill, I don't know how I'm going to do that," he acknowledged.

"She wrote in here to the boss for a room; said she'd be along yesterday. Well, she didn't show up, and so to-night we let a fellow have it. He's up there now."

"Well, he'll have to vamoose—who is he?"

"Englishman—Walter Spotteswood Montgomery," consulting his book. "Hell of a pompous duck; the boys call him 'Juke' Montgomery."

"All right; send some one up to rout his lordship out lively."

Tommy shuffled his feet, and looked again at the marshal; he had received positive orders about that room, and was fully convinced that Montgomery would not take kindly to eviction. But Hickock's quiet gray eyes were insistent.

"Here, 'Red,'" he finally called to the burly porter, "hustle up to '15,' and tell that fellow Montgomery he's got to get out; tell him we want the room for a lady."

Hickock watched the man disappear up the stairs, helped himself carefully to a cigar out of the stand, tossing a coin to the clerk and then deliberately lighting up.

"Thank Montgomery will be pleased?" he asked shortly.

"No; he'll probably 'throw 'Red' down stairs."

The marshal smiled, his glance turning expectantly in that direction.

"Then perhaps I had better remain," Tommy said. And he strolled nonchalantly over to the open window, and stood there looking quietly out, a spiral of blue smoke rising from his cigar.

They could distinctly hear the pounding on the door above, and occasionally the sound of the porter's voice; but the straight, erect figure at the window remained motionless.

Finally "Red" came down, nursing his knuckles.

"Says he'll be damned if he will—says he's gone to bed, and that there ain't a cussed female in this blasted country he'd get up for," he reported circumstantially to the clerk. "He told me to tell you to go plumb to hell, and that if any one else come poundin' round that to-night, he'd take a pot shot at 'em through the door. 'Fifteen' seemed a bit peevish, and I reckon if he was riled up much more, he might get rambunctious; his language was sure fierce."

"Wild Bill" turned slowly around, still calmly smoking, his eyes exhibiting mild amusement.

"Did you clearly inform Mr.—ah—Montgomery that we desired the room for the use of a lady?" he questioned gently, apparently both pained and shocked.

"I did, sir."

"It surprises me to find one in our city with so little regard for the ordinary courtesies of life, Tommy. Perhaps I can persuade the gentleman."

He disappeared up the stairs, taking them deliberately step by step, the cigar still smoking between his lips.

"Keep away from in front of the door, Bill; he'll shoot sure, for he cocked his gun when I was up there."

Hickock glanced back, waved his hand.

"Don't worry—the room occupied by Mr.—ah—Montgomery was '15,' I believe you said?"

Whatever occurred above, it was over with very shortly. Those listening at the foot of the stairs heard the first gentle rap on the door, an outburst of profanity, followed almost instantly by a sharp snap, as if a lock had given way, then brief scuffling mingled with the loud creaking of a bed. Scarcely a minute later the marshal appeared on the landing above, one hand firmly gripped in the neck-band of an undershirt, thus securely holding the writhing, helpless figure of a man, who swore violently every time he could catch his breath.

"Any other room you could conveniently assign Mr.—ah—Montgomery to, Tommy?" he asked pleasantly.

"If he doesn't like it in the morning, he could be changed, you know."

"Give—give him '47.'"

"All right. I'm the bull-boy temporarily, Montgomery; easy now, my man, easy, or I'll be compelled to use both hands. 'Red,' carry the gentleman."

The Physiological Institute of the University of Utrecht possesses one of the most remarkable rooms in the world, a chamber about seven and a half feet square, which is said to be absolutely noiseless, as far as the entrance of sounds from outside is concerned.

This room is situated on the top story of a laboratory building, and is an inside room, but so arranged that it can be ventilated and inundated with sunshine. The walls, floors and ceiling each consist of half a dozen layers of different substances, with air spaces and interstices filled with sound-dampening materials.

Some persons when in the room experience a peculiar sensation in the ears. While every effort has been made to exclude sounds that are not wanted, of course the object of constructing this singular room was to experiment with phenomena connected with sound. Some of the sounds employed are made in the room itself; others are introduced from outside by means of a copper tube, which is plugged with lead when not in use.

clerman's luggage to '47—he has kindly consented to give up his old room to a lady—come along, Montgomery."

It was possibly five minutes later when he came down, still smoking, his face not even flushed.

"Montgomery is feeling so badly we were obliged to lock him in," he reported to the clerk. "Seems to be of a somewhat nervous disposition. Well, good-night, Doctor," he lifted his hat. "And to you, Miss, pleasant dreams."

Hope watched him as he stepped outside, pausing a moment in the shadows to glance keenly up and down the long street before venturing down the steps. This quiet man had enemies, hundreds of them, desperate and reckless; ceaseless vigilance alone protected him. Yet her eyes only, and not her thoughts, were riveted on the disappearing marauder. She turned to Fairbairn, who had risen to his feet.

"I wish I might see him, also," she said, as though continuing an interrupted conversation.

"See him? Who?"

"Mr. Keith. I—I knew him once, and—and Doctor, won't you tell him I should like to have him come and see me just—just as soon as he can."

CHAPTER XXII.

An Interrupted Interview.

Miss Christie Macaire, attired in a soft lounging robe, her luxuriant hair wound simply about her head, forming a decidedly attractive picture, gazed with manifest dissatisfaction on the bare walls of her room, and then out through the open window into the comparative quiet street below.

The bar-tender at the "Palace," directly opposite, business being slack, was leaning negligently in the doorway. His roving eyes caught the fair face framed in the window, and he waved his hand encouragingly. Miss Christie's brown eyes stared across at him in silent disgust, and then wandered again about the room, her foot tapping nervously on the rug carpet.

"It's my very last trip to this town," she said declaimingly, her red lips pressed tightly together.

Miss Macaire had indeed ample reason to feel aggrieved over her reception. She had written to have the best apartment in the house reserved for her, and then, more because she had later been lured out to Fort Hays, and was consequently a day behind in arrival, had discovered that another woman—a base impostor, actually masquerading under her name—had been duly installed in the coveted apartment. Driving in from the fort that morning, accompanied by two of the more susceptible junior officers, conscious that she had performed most artistic work the evening before in the spacious mess-hall, and feeling confident of comfortable quarters awaiting her, it had been something of a shock to be informed by the perturbed clerk that "15" was already occupied by another. "A lady what come in last night, and I naturally supposed it was you."

In vain Miss Macaire protested, ably backed by the worshipping officers who still gallantly attended her; the management was obdurate. Then she would go up herself, and throw the hussy out. Indeed, too angry for bantering further words, Christie had actually started for the stairs, intending to execute her threat, when the perplexing Tommy succeeded in stopping her, by plainly blurring out the exact truth.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Uplift in Russia.

Even the submerged Russians are lifting their heads to the better fruits of the industries of civilization. In fifteen years savings banks' holdings have risen from $235,000,000 to $650,000,000. Little by little, too, the Russian bonds, which had been sold abroad, are flowing back to the subjects of the czar.

Remarkable as has been his success, twice so has been his spirit of generosity and self-sacrifice. Quitting a Portland pastorate, he has never received compensation in any form from the United Society which he founded and of which he is head and to which he has given more than a quarter century of service. He has supported himself by his literary work and even when travelling over the world, which he has done as have few other men, he has paid his own expenses by writing for the magazines and other similar work.

Largely because of Dr. Clark's personal efforts, made during tours in the various parts of the world, the Christian Endeavor movement has become world wide. Dr. Clark is a quiet, self-contained man. He is not a great speaker, and his leadership of young people depends upon personality rather than upon voice and manner. He has administrative ability to a marked degree, and has been able because of it to surround himself in his work with other men who became prime favorites with the young people, although Dr. Clark has always been their ideal. Dr. Clark is a native of Aylmer, Quebec, is 59 years old and has traveled around the world four times in the interest of the Christian Endeavor movement.

The society has taken its place among the germinal organizations and institutions of religion. It has taken hold of the problem of training the youth as no society in the history of Christendom has ever done before. It has tolled through a few years and now has reached a stage in its history where it has nothing to do but grow and expand unhindered and free. Dr. Clark is still at its head and the great work which he is accomplishing is remarkable.

MARVEL OF SUCCESS

Christian Endeavor Society Girdles the World.

Greatest Religious Organization in History, With Over 3,500,000 Members—Rev. Francis E. Clark Its Founder.

Portland, Me.—Founded in 1881, by Rev. Francis Edward Clark in Williston Congregational church, Portland, the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor has increased from one society to over 72,000 societies that thrive in every corner of the earth. Its roll of membership has grown from a list of 57 to an enrollment of over 3,500,000. Twenty-nine years ago it was known as an innovation in a parish of Portland.

Mr. Clark for years had faced the demand of the age for religious youth. He had studied the problem from every side and had sought information from all known sources concerning the various plans that had matured from time to time in Christian history for developing the religious life and activity of young people. He grew dependent of ever producing anything new and effective; but yet in all humble simplicity he made an attempt and it proved to be the most successful in the history of Christendom. Its success is due to the sincerity and ableness of its founder, and the definiteness of its purpose. Mr. Clark, although unconscious of it at the time, is a man chosen by Providence for a life career, an apostle in a movement which is essentially progressive and destined to pass on through history an active and far reaching force in the affairs of the Christian world.

In Dr. Clark we are brought face to face with a man who is a revelation as far as executive ability and versatility are concerned. He has been many things to many men. He has been a pastor and leader, an organizer and a diplomat, an advocate and defender of young people, a gentleman and a Christian. His gentleness has made him great and his humility has saved him from the dangers to which pride and honor are ever exposed. As an editor and author he has been voluminous and he has made copy not only for his own official paper and publishers, but for numerous editors and magazines. He has written for his readers wherever he has traveled in this and other lands. In his connection with Christian Endeavor he believes that Providence has opened a way before him and bidden him to walk in divinely-chosen paths. This has given him courage and zeal.

Rev. Francis E. Clark.

Remarkable as has been his success, twice so has been his spirit of generosity and self-sacrifice. Quitting a Portland pastorate, he has never received compensation in any form from the United Society which he founded and of which he is head and to which he has given more than a quarter century of service. He has supported himself by his literary work and even when travelling over the world, which he has done as have few other men, he has paid his own expenses by writing for the magazines and other similar work.

Largely because of Dr. Clark's personal efforts, made during tours in the various parts of the world, the Christian Endeavor movement has become world wide. Dr. Clark is a quiet, self-contained man. He is not a great speaker, and his leadership of young people depends upon personality rather than upon voice and manner. He has administrative ability to a marked degree, and has been able because of it to surround himself in his work with other men who became prime favorites with the young people, although Dr. Clark has always been their ideal. Dr. Clark is a native of Aylmer, Quebec, is 59 years old and has traveled around the world four times in the interest of the Christian Endeavor movement.

The society has taken its place among the germinal organizations and institutions of religion. It has taken hold of the problem of training the youth as no society in the history of Christendom has ever done before. It has tolled through a few years and now has reached a stage in its history where it has nothing to do but grow and expand unhindered and free. Dr. Clark is still at its head and the great work which he is accomplishing is remarkable.

DOCTORS SAID HE WOULD DIE.

A Friend's Advice Saves Life.

I wish to speak of the wonderful cure that I have received from your noted 'Swamp-Root,' the great kidney and bladder cure. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back and sides. I could not breathe without difficulty. I tried all the different doctors from far and near, but they said it was no use to doctor as I would die anyway. I was at the end of my rope and was so miserable with pain and the thought that I must die that words cannot tell how I felt. One day a friend told me of the wonderful help she had received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. She gave me one of your pamphlets which I read and determined to try Swamp-Root. After taking half a bottle I felt better. Have now taken ten bottles and am well as I ever was, thanks to Swamp-Root. I wish to tell all suffering people that have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best medicine on the market.

All persons doubting this statement can write to me and I will answer them directly.

Yours very truly,

CLYDE F. CAMERER,

Revela, Wash.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of July, 1909.

VERNE TOWNE, Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention this paper. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

ORDER HE COULDN'T DISOBEY

What Was Poor Ducky to Do When "Old St. Luke Himself" Gave Directions.

The venerable rector of St. Luke's has a salty and apostolic appearance. He also has decided opinions of his own on most matters and is not averse to expressing them. Recently, unknown to him, the vestry decided to have the next supply of coal for the church put in a different cellar from the one commonly used. When the coal was delivered the rector, seeing the drayman making what he thought was a mistake in its disposal, interposed and in no uncertain terms bade the drayman place the coal in the cellar always used for that purpose.

The senior warden several days later was much annoyed to discover that his orders had been disregarded and that the coal was in the same old cellar. With wrath in his eye he complained to the coal dealer. The latter declared that he had carefully explained to the drayman where to put the coal, so to settle the matter the drayman was called up.

"Sam, you black rascal," thundered the coal man, "didn't I tell you to put that coal for St. Luke's in the cellar opening on Fourth street?"

"Yessah."

"Mr. Smith tells me you didn't do it. Why can't you carry out my orders?"

The drayman grinned sheepishly, hesitated, scratched his head, "Well, boss, you see, I done started to put dat coal whow you tola me—yassah, I done started—an' ole St. Luko hisself he come out and gimme fits about it."—Harper's Magazine.

Get a Free Package At Your Druggist's

Wonderful New Treatment for Kidneys, Bladder, Rheumatism, Backache—Thousands of Free Samples Being Given Away!

To prove that there is at last one really dependable remedy for all such disorders, the makers of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills have authorized druggists everywhere to distribute free trial packages to all applicants.

Do you suffer from diabetes, dropsy, Bright's Disease, pain in bladder, rheumatism in any form? Does your back ache, else sore, head ache—whole body aches? Pains or twinges in groins or limbs? Muscles sore, tender, inflamed? Difficulty in retaining urines? Scalding, burning sensations in urines or unnatural color? Nervous? Depressed? Head the danger signal? Don't wait until it's too late!

Go to the nearest drug-store at once, ask Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills—you'll thank your stars for having done so. It's the one sure, safe, reliable remedy. No bad after effects. Sold in 25c and 50c packages. If you want to try them first, ask for the free sample. If druggist can't supply you, send direct to Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

A Natural Error.

"How did that story pan out about the man up in the Bronx who found the half bullet in his back stoop this morning?" asked the city editor.

"Nothing in it," replied the reporter.

"He discovered it wasn't a bullet, after all. The teaman left it there."—Woman's Home Companion.

A little candle went out walking one dark night, and bugs and flies, moths and men gave it an ovation; the next day it went out again, but no one noticed it.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
A. B. JOHNSON, Editor and Prop.TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One copy, one year, in advance, $1.00Advertising Rates Will be Furnished Upon Application

Telephone Antioch 581

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1911

(Continued from page one.)

MURDER MYSTRY CLEARED

ver and fired twice both shots entering the chauffeur's head. They wired a heavy piece of rail to his body throwing it into the river. They then drove the car alone to Algonquin, but being inexperienced they soon abandoned it, returning to Chicago.

Sheriff Green stated that they had the longest string of crimes to lay a the feet of the two men ever in Lake county jail. It appears that fine detective work on the part of the city and county officials have been carried on with utmost secrecy and has resulted in the discovery of a large number of crimes ranging from common house breaking to murder in the first degree.

The scenes of the crimes, it is said shift to all parts of the state. From Joliet, Elgin, Rockford and other places horses have been stolen and the circumstances surrounding these incidents lend all to believe that the same men perpetrated all of them or at least a part of them.

ALLEDALES DEFEATED BY GRAYSLAKE

The Allendale basket ball team played their first game this year with Grayslake and were defeated by the score of 22 to 7. It was a hard fought game from start to finish. The Grayslake men out weighed their opponents and were fully a foot taller all around. Allendale put up a good game for the size of the men they were playing against. The first half ended 8 to 4 in favor of Grayslake. After five minutes of playing the Allendale center sprained his left arm at the elbow but played to the finish.

After ten minutes intermission play was again called and the first thing the guard hurt his shoulder and the forward had his left eye closed but they were both scotch and plucky boys and stuck it out until the end. The final score was 25 to 7.

Rueh Hussey of Lake Villa acted as referee and Otto Ling as umpire. Both men did exceedingly well. There were no disputes over the decisions that were made.

Edward Kerr and Mr. Avery's helper were present at the game from Lake Villa. A large number of Grayslake people were on hand to see their team play. A return game is expected to be played in the near future.

This is the second victory of Grayslake over Allendale and this has raised the team off their feet, they are going out the next time to play their hardest and to win at least once from their old rivals.

The lineup's were as follows:

Shaffer.....	R. F.	Ramsden
Shanks.....	L. F.	Devens
Hook.....	C.	Roth
Brandstetter ..	R. G.	Monroe
Winkle.....	L. G.	Lindblade
Whitmore.....	U.	Hanna

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

FURNISHED BY
Lake County Title and Trust Co.
Abstracts of Title, Titles Guaranteed.
MASONIC TEMPLE BUILDING
WAUKEGAN ILLINOIS
LOUIS J. GURNEY Secretary.

Austin Ave. Trust & Savings Bank to Mary L. Goodell lot 13, Forbicks sub sec 14, W. Antioch twp q c	$ 1 00
W H Smith and wf to Village of Round Lake lot 8, Smiths Add to Round Lake w d	200 00
W E Hill and wf to L L Hill pt sec 25, Wauconda Twp, also lots 1 to 30 blk 2, Hills add Wauconda q c	600 00
Lydia S G Gross and hus to S D Zook and wf lot 6, & S lot 4, blk 10, Wrights add, Libertyville q c	1 00

Safe Well Guarded.
A remarkable new safe lock has been invented. It is provided with photographic mechanism, so that it can be opened only by the voice of the owner. A mouthpiece, like that of a telephone takes the place of a knob on the door, and this is provided with the usual stylus or needle, which travels in a groove in the sound record of the photograph cylinder. Before the safe can be unlocked the password must be spoken into the original cylinder by the one who made the original record.

No Cause for Hilarity.
Sweet potatoes are exposed to the attacks of a dozen serious insects, says an exchange. We see nothing to laugh at, either.

As We Speak It.
A German who had come to America to master our language was being shown behind the scenes of a vaudeville theater by one of his American friends. "That man," said the American, indicating an actor with a wave of his hand, "is taking off his make-up to make-up for another take-off." The German departed, sputtering, "Success."

FAIL TO NOTIFY
CORONERMay Result in One of the Very Strictest Investigations Ever
Held in Lake County

PROSECUTION MAY RESULT

Zion City Woman who Died Without Medical Aid was Buried Without Even Holding an Inquest.

As a result of the alleged failure of the City of Zion to report the fact that a death had occurred in that city without proper medical attention, there is likely to be one of the deepest investigations ever attempted in this county.

On Wednesday of this week Mrs. M. Sweeney of Zion City died in childbirth, a direct result, it is claimed of, blood poisoning, caused by improper care at the time of the birth of the child.

Both mother and child are dead. For six days it is alleged Mrs. Sweeney, who is the wife of a printer at Zion City lay in a precarious condition at her home without medical attendance save one woman, styling herself a nurse, went and prayed in an adjoining room. The groans and shrieks of the woman for nearly a week, it is said have aroused the neighbors and when the woman died, at the same time her child was born dead, many threatened to report the facts in the case to the officials of the city.

It is alleged that large amount of secrecy attended the entire matter. Coroner Taylor admitted that he had heard nothing of the case and in fact knew nothing of any death at Zion City until the alleged facts were stated to him.

Coroner Taylor, when asked about the matter stated that the law prescribed a penalty for the failure to report a death which had occurred without medical attention or in which the circumstances surrounding the death, might make the cause of death a matter of doubt.

Ever since Zion City was founded, without its physicians, there has been an inquest over nearly all the deaths which have occurred up there, but in this case no inquest has been held and it is reported that the woman and her babe have been buried side by side in the cemetery at Zion, it is alleged.

As soon as Coroner Taylor was apprised of the alleged facts in the case he stated that he would at once begin an inquiry into the matter and should the circumstances warrant, would start prosecutions to stop alleged violations of the law in this regard in Zion City. He stated that once before he had been compelled to revert to a process of law, in a similar case, and would do so again if this case developed the facts as they were stated.

The law on this matter is explicit and states that all deaths which occur, without proper medical attention, shall be reported to the coroner, no matter what the obvious cause may be.

In this case it is stated that not even a Zion City physician was attendant upon the woman during her entire illness, and that nothing but tears and prayers it is said were used to alleviate the suffering or to attempt to save the life of the woman and the child.

BETTER THAN BOOK LEARNIN

Kentucky Mountaineer Preferred as Teacher Because He Could Lik Biggest Boy in School.

The colonel had gone up into the Kentucky mountains from the blue grass in command of a snowmill, and as soon as he had mobilized his forces in that field he began to maneuver in the matter of improving the people about his camp. What they needed most were better schools and he determined to take a hand in the selection of a proper teacher. To this end he called in one from his own section who had a college education, but so mountain experience. When he proposed this blue grass nurtured young man to the mountaineer trustees there was unanimous opposition in favor of one of their own kind, who had been teaching the school for some time, though his education was of the most limited kind.

"But," argued the colonel, "your man doesn't have the first rudiments of an education and the pupils might as well have no teacher at all."

"He's done better than anybody else ever done, colonel," replied the chairman of the board.

"That may be, but none of them has been educated properly to teach. My man has been through college and is superior to any teacher in the country's Farming Population.

Census according to color there are 5,422,892 white farmers in this country and 917,468 others.

Rarely Lose Their Minds.
An alienist says alienists rarely lose their minds. That they more frequently lose their morals is evident from the manner in which some of them testify in criminal trials.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

As Yet Inexperienced.
The husband who has not yet learned to wear a smile over an aching heart still has rice in his pockets.—Exchange.

Two Classes.
The people of this world are divided into two classes—those who are able to have drawing-rooms when they start on their wedding journeys and those who are not.

Terriers Kept Busy.
Three terriers recently killed 250 rats in half an hour when a wheat stack was being threshed at Bishop's Stortford, England.

Foundations of Empire.
The foundations of the British empire are laid in the cottages and kitchens of the people of England.—London Daily Mail.

Proper Way to Dry Umbrella.
Umbrellas when wet should be half-opened and set to dry with the point upwards; they will last much longer if dried in this way; when they are put wet into a stand in the ordinary way, the water settles in the top and rusts the ribs, which in time causes the silk to become rotten, and finally crack in holes.

Dangerous Wax.
Not many persons know that the preserving wax used in jellies is highly explosive. It should be placed in a small tinpot, and the vessel must be only half full when ready for use. Be careful of the drip when replacing it on the stove. Several accidents this season have proclaimed its dangerous features.

Cleaning Glass Vases.
Flower vases which have become cloudy and discolored should be cleaned with a mixture of vinegar and salt, poured in and well shaken about. A long piece of stiff wire, upon the end of which is a little pad of soft rag, should be poked into all the corners and crevices, and the vase then rinsed in warm water and dried with a good polishing cloth. Fly marks should be rubbed with half a lemon and then polished with a chamomile leather.

All Have Their Opinion.
As yet it is undetermined which is the worse: "The man who can sing and won't," or the man who can't sing and will."

C. G. FOLTZ CO.

Burlington, Wisconsin

We are giving our lowest discounts
NOW on

Ladies' and Children's

Cloaks

Men's and Boy's

Suits and Overcoats

Winter Dress Goods. Underwear
It will pay YOU to buy now

Sixth Annual Exhibition

Waukegan and Lake County
Poultry Show

Under the auspices of the Illinois Poultry Fancier's Association, will be held at Battery C Armory, Waukegan, Ill.,

January 8 to 14, 1912

Bigger and better than ever this year. The Association owns Empire Cooping$1,000 in Premiums
Fifteen Silver Cups
5 Competent JudgesSend for Premium List. Send your birds and bring your friends

ROBERT CONNOLLY, JR., Sec'y.

Here is Glad News for You Boys and Girls
Toyland Opens Saturday

We want every boy and girl in this locality to plan on coming to the Globe Saturday and pay a visit to toyland—the happiest and most interesting spot in the whole town. It's the grand opening day and will be a merry occasion for the youngster.

All Your Mothers are Invited, to Come right along with the children for you'll enjoy seeing this wonderful display. Over one-half of our big basement is filled to overflowing with toys, dolls, games, books, etc., to make a merry Christmas for the little ones.

Bring the children tomorrow and let them enjoy the pleasures and freedom of Toyland.

Suitable
and Practical Gifts
for Men, Women
and Children

The Globe
DEPARTMENT STORE

Waukegan's Greatest Christmas Store

Do Your
Xmas
Shopping
Early
While Stocks are CompleteBuy Your Groceries and Meats at Wendland Bros.
LAKE VILLA, ILLINOIS

Fancy Groceries

Kellogg's corn flakes	8c
Uncle Sam's breakfast food	20c
Pettit John's breakfast food	12c
Shredded wheat	12c
Lima beans per can	8c
Baked " " "	8c
Pumpkins " " "	8c
Dates " lb.	8c
Prunes " can	14c
Figs " "	18c
Dried Peaches per can	14c
Boneless codfish per pkg	14c
Continental oil sardines per can	4c
None such mince meat	9c
Calumet baking powder	10 and 20c

Fancy Meats

Fancy rib roast	14c
" pot "	10 to 11c
" round steak	15c
" sirloin steak	17c
" porter house steak	18c
" pork chops	15c
" " roast	14c
" " shoulder	12c
" smoked hams	15c
" smoked bacon	17c
Pure leaf lard 5-lb. pails	80c
Pure leaf lard 3-lb. pails	38c

All other Groceries and Meats at Lowest Possible

Prices

LOCAL ITEMS

Local Announcements and the Elgin Butter Market

ELGIN, ILL., Nov. 27.—Butter firm at 35c. Output for the week 641,800 lbs.

Miss Libbie Moore is on the sick list.

Frank Bock was a Chicago visitor on Monday.

Miss Minnie Lux was a Waukegan visitor Tuesday.

Jas. Salat, Jr., was a Chicago visitor a few days this week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Turek on last Saturday a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grimm were Waukegan visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. James spent Monday at Burlington.

Bert Harrower of Gurnee, visited his parents here over Sunday.

H. J. Barber and Wm. Davis were Fond du Lac visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Austin Savage and Mrs. Victor Chinn were Burlington shoppers Tuesday.

When your purse strings are loose don't forget H. J. Brogan the Harness Man.

Lyman Paddock and family left on Monday for Sarasota, Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hodge, James French and daughter Miss Fay left on Tuesday for Jacksonville, Florida.

During the twenty-four years of its existence Lotus Camp M. W. A. has paid out to beneficiaries the sum of $30,000.

Weather and roads permitting I will be in Antioch, Sunday, Dec. 10. At the home of H. J. Barber. C. H. Barber, Optician.

Wm. Dupre who has been employed at Gary, Ind., for the past few months, returned to his home here the latter part of last week.

Marshal's November report for money collected: Crystal theatre, $5.00; three meters, $11.10; fish peddlers license 50c. Total $16.60. F. G. Hooper.

The Liberty Cemetery Helpers will meet with Mrs. Fred Schreck, Tuesday, Dec. 12, 1911. All are cordially invited. Maude S. Robbins, Sec'y.

Dr. Ames, Chas. Pullen and Lewis Savage attended a meeting of the G. A. R. at Burlington Saturday. The occasion being the annual election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Douglass of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes of Lake Villa, were Thanksgiving guests at the home of L. M. Hughes.

Lost—Between the California Ice house and Loon Lake a pocket book containing a sum of money and a hunting license made out to Jos. Brusa. Finder please leave at this office.

Three changes have been made in the local train service beginning on Tuesday morning of this week; the milk train was changed from 7:42 to 7:23; the 11:01 to 10:12 and the 4:41 to 4:36.

Geo. Conrad, who has been employed as manager of the North Shore Electric Company's office at this place is no longer in the employ of the company. He is succeeded as manager by Wm. Harrower.

See Alden, Biding & Co. for anything in music. Pianos, phonographs and records. Two stores, 473 Market street, Kenosha, and 209 N. Genesee street, Waukegan. For piano tuning send to us.

Always Unpopular Bachelor. Bachelors were taxed under William III. of England.

First Requisite. Nobody ever taught well who did not love to teach.—Munsey's Magazine.

Many Soldiers Suicide. The military profession the world over has the greatest percentage of suicides.

Concrete Perfectly Handed. A summer house in Havana built of concrete is made to represent a log and straw hut, and the illusion is said to be perfect, even after close examination.

Where Courage is Shown. It needs more courage to fight the bothers and the worries and the humdrum of life than to meet its great emergencies.

Geographical Glee. Milwaukee, to the funny smith, is but one vat of beer; Chicago is the windy burg, with lots of atmosphere; Sioux Falls, as the divorcee's joy, long since attained renown, and Brooklyn, to the humorist, is baby carriage town.

Indestructible Doll. A new doll that its inventor claims is indestructible is made of properly shaped blocks of wood, joined by spring steel axels and hinges.

Wm. Davis is at present employed at the depot.

Wm. Scherf made a trip to Withee, Wis., Tuesday.

Wm. McNeil returned home Friday from Chetek.

Mrs. Clarence Able of Chicago is visiting Antioch friends.

Mrs. Wm. Hanneman and daughter spent the last of the week in Chicago.

For Sale—24 6-weeks old pigs at $2.00 each. H. S. Messing, Antioch.

J. H. Goedrich visited with friends at Delevan the first of the week.

William Way and family are entering his mother Mrs. Way of Rochelle, Ill.

Lloyd White of Waukegan visited Antioch relatives the latter part of last week.

Misses Belle Hughes and Hazel Tiffany spent Friday and Saturday in Waukegan.

Mrs. L. M. Cribb returned home on Tuesday from a two months visit in Northern Missouri.

While hauling hay John Wilcox had the misfortune to fall from the load, breaking his leg in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Said and Mrs. W. Garland of Reinbeck, Iowa, spent Thanksgiving at Frank Garlands.

The postal savings bank was opened at the local postoffice Tuesday morning. J. C. James was the first depositor.

For Rent—Poultry Farm 1 mile from village of Antioch, 8 acres, house and barn, large poultry house. J. J. Morley.

The C. E. society of Liberty Corners will give a social on Saturday evening, Dec. 9 at the home of the Misses Van Duzer. All come.

There will be a meeting of the Grass Lake Cemetery society at the school house on Saturday evening, Dec. 16. Everyone having interest in the society is requested to come. An election of officers will take place at this time if desired.

Elsie Herman was hostess at a week end party at her home at Grass Lake last week, skating and costing as well as many indoor games constituted the amusements. Those present were Helen Naber, Vera Tiffany, Mabelle Richards, Leona Yopp, Arthur Herman, John and Ed Yopp.

Lotus camp, M. W. A., at a meeting held Monday evening elected the following officers for the coming year: Consul, Ed Garrett; Advisor, F. G. Hooper; Banker, W. T. Taylor; Clerk, J. C. James; Escort, J. H. Reading; Watchman, J. King; Sentry, H. Corke; Manager, S. LaPlant; Physician, Dr. Ames.

Pursuant with the policy adopted by the majority of the papers throughout the state we will, beginning the first of January, make charge at the rate of five cents per line for all local notices of meetings, socials, entertainments, suppers, card of thanks, etc., that are given for the purpose of making money. With the exception of the monthly meeting, notices of the Ladies Aid and the Cemetery society, and in cases where an order for bills accompanies the reading matter.

For Mouse Holes. To stop mouse holes, fill with common laundry soap and stick a few pins or sharp pointed wire nails through the soap.

All Are Alike. The late Professor James is no exception to the rule: "Messages" from the spirit world are uniformly lacking in enthusiasm.—Kansas City Star.

Bachelor's Idea. Mrs. Benham—"What is the meanest thing a woman can say to a man?" Benham—"Yes"—when he is fool enough to propose.—Town Topics.

Daily Thought. There is no greater philanthropist in the country than the working man who shares his loaf of bread with his neighborhood.—Mr. Will Brooks.

Supreme Confidence. "Mrs. Grayson seems to have the utmost confidence in her husband." "I have often noticed it. I believe she would even eat mushrooms that he had picked."

Keeping Child's Ears Straight. When there is any danger of baby's ears growing out it is a good plan to let him wear at night a small open-work bonnet of cambric or nainsook, which will help to keep the ears flat. Care should be taken that it is not in the least tight and so prove uncomfortable for the little sleeper.

His Scholastic Progress. "Yes, Johnny's doing nicely at school," Mrs. Lansing said; "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the story the other day about Alexander cutting the gordian knot."

Pineapple for Diphtheria. Pineapple is declared to be one of the best known remedies for diphtheria. It has been tested, we are told, with good effects in cases of great severity.

Good and Bad Critics. The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

Children Not All Alike. Children should not be harshly treated because they are different in some respects to others. The difference is the case of your own boy may mark him out for a genius later on.

Good News for Mamma. Lisa (writing to mamma)—I miss you very much. Fortunately papa is very happy, probably to cheer me up; kind papa!—Fliegende Blätter.

That Explains. "I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

Barbarous Penalty. Death by prevention of sleep is a legal form of punishment in China.

Good News for Mamma. Lisa (writing to mamma)—I miss you very much. Fortunately papa is very happy, probably to cheer me up; kind papa!—Fliegende Blätter.

That Explains. "I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

Barbarous Penalty. Death by prevention of sleep is a legal form of punishment in China.

Good and Bad Critics. The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

Joseph Turner of Grayslake spent Wednesday here.

Henry Lepenski of Stockton, Wis., was an Antioch visitor Wednesday.

On and after Monday, Dec. 11, my store will be located in the L. M. Haynes building. Frank Chinn.

Mrs. H. F. Bebee and daughter Heister were Chicago passengers today, (Thursday).

Charles Johnson, John Thayer, Chas. Richards and William Turner were Chicago visitors today (Thursday).

During the week preceding Christmas, I will give a pound box of choice candy free with every five dollar purchase. Frank Chinn.

While some of our local nlmrods are reporting that the rabbit hunting is rather poor this season, others are reporting extremely good luck. Joe Willie succeeded in bagging twenty on Tuesday.

At a regular meeting of Sequoit lodge A. F. & A. M., held at their hall on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the coming Masonic year: George Wallis, Worshipful Master; Elmer Brook, Senior Warden; J. H. Reading, Junior Warden; E. L. Simons, Treasurer; Frank Huber, Secretary; D. B. Sabin, Senior Deacon; N. Proctor, Junior Deacon; L. H. Felter, Tyler. The installation of officers will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 20.

Good News for Mamma. Lisa (writing to mamma)—I miss you very much. Fortunately papa is very happy, probably to cheer me up; kind papa!—Fliegende Blätter.

That Explains. "I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

Barbarous Penalty. Death by prevention of sleep is a legal form of punishment in China.

Good and Bad Critics. The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

Children Not All Alike. Children should not be harshly treated because they are different in some respects to others. The difference is the case of your own boy may mark him out for a genius later on.

Pineapple for Diphtheria. Pineapple is declared to be one of the best known remedies for diphtheria. It has been tested, we are told, with good effects in cases of great severity.

His Scholastic Progress. "Yes, Johnny's doing nicely at school," Mrs. Lansing said; "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the story the other day about Alexander cutting the gordian knot."

Keeping Child's Ears Straight. When there is any danger of baby's ears growing out it is a good plan to let him wear at night a small open-work bonnet of cambric or nainsook, which will help to keep the ears flat. Care should be taken that it is not in the least tight and so prove uncomfortable for the little sleeper.

Supreme Confidence. "Mrs. Grayson seems to have the utmost confidence in her husband." "I have often noticed it. I believe she would even eat mushrooms that he had picked."

Good News for Mamma. Lisa (writing to mamma)—I miss you very much. Fortunately papa is very happy, probably to cheer me up; kind papa!—Fliegende Blätter.

That Explains. "I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

Barbarous Penalty. Death by prevention of sleep is a legal form of punishment in China.

Good and Bad Critics. The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

Children Not All Alike. Children should not be harshly treated because they are different in some respects to others. The difference is the case of your own boy may mark him out for a genius later on.

Pineapple for Diphtheria. Pineapple is declared to be one of the best known remedies for diphtheria. It has been tested, we are told, with good effects in cases of great severity.

His Scholastic Progress. "Yes, Johnny's doing nicely at school," Mrs. Lansing said; "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the story the other day about Alexander cutting the gordian knot."

Keeping Child's Ears Straight. When there is any danger of baby's ears growing out it is a good plan to let him wear at night a small open-work bonnet of cambric or nainsook, which will help to keep the ears flat. Care should be taken that it is not in the least tight and so prove uncomfortable for the little sleeper.

Supreme Confidence. "Mrs. Grayson seems to have the utmost confidence in her husband." "I have often noticed it. I believe she would even eat mushrooms that he had picked."

Good News for Mamma. Lisa (writing to mamma)—I miss you very much. Fortunately papa is very happy, probably to cheer me up; kind papa!—Fliegende Blätter.

That Explains. "I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

Barbarous Penalty. Death by prevention of sleep is a legal form of punishment in China.

Good and Bad Critics. The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

Children Not All Alike. Children should not be harshly treated because they are different in some respects to others. The difference is the case of your own boy may mark him out for a genius later on.

Pineapple for Diphtheria. Pineapple is declared to be one of the best known remedies for diphtheria. It has been tested, we are told, with good effects in cases of great severity.

His Scholastic Progress. "Yes, Johnny's doing nicely at school," Mrs. Lansing said; "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the story the other day about Alexander cutting the gordian knot."

Keeping Child's Ears Straight. When there is any danger of baby's ears growing out it is a good plan to let him wear at night a small open-work bonnet of cambric or nainsook, which will help to keep the ears flat. Care should be taken that it is not in the least tight and so prove uncomfortable for the little sleeper.

Supreme Confidence. "Mrs. Grayson seems to have the utmost confidence in her husband." "I have often noticed it. I believe she would even eat mushrooms that he had picked."

Notice. I wish to have it strictly understood that no one has any right to open any of the hydrants on the water main and anyone who does it and is found out will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. F. G. Hooper, Supt. Water.

Notice. You can have a fine Corduroy skirt made-to-order in blue or brown for only $6.00 and a Messaline waist to match for $4.50.

Mrs. A. G. Watson.

WANTED. At once. Men to represent us, either locally or traveling. Now is the time to start. Money in the work for the right men. Apply at once and secure territory. Allen Nursery Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Notice. Have you forgotten that little bill you owe Tiffany & Felter. If you have not please call and settle at once.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. James, Jr.

The James TRACE HOLDER. The very BEST TRACE HOLDER MADE. It can not break or freeze, is automatic; made of the very best steel wire, nickel plated, price 10 cents per pair. J. C. JAMES, Mfg'r. ANTIOCH, ILL.

State of Illinois, County of Lake, ss: In the County Court of Lake County.

In the matter of the petition of James L. Swayer, Administrator of the Estate of Charles M. Manley, Deceased vs Florence E. Manley, Claude M. Manley, Verna R. Manley, Veta M. Manley, Teddy G. Manley and Edmund Wells for leave to sell real estate to pay debts.

Public Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the decree made and entered in the above entitled cause by the said County Court on the ninth day of November A. D. 1911, James L. Swayer, administrator of the estate of Charles M. Manley deceased will on Saturday the 16th day of December A. D. 1911, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon of said day at the west door of the Post Office in the Village of Antioch, County of Lake and State of Illinois, sell at public vendue to the highest and best bidder for cash, free and clear of dower or mortgage all and singular the following lands and premises in said decree mentioned to-wit:

Lots eight (8), nine (9) and ten (10) in Rinear's Addition to the Village of Antioch, being a subdivision of part of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter and part of the northeast quarter of the south west quarter of section eight (8) in Township forty-six (46) North Range ten (10), east of the Third Principal Meridian, situated in Lake County, Ill., according to the plat thereof recorded June 15, A. D. 1886, in Book A of Plats on page 56 as Document Number 33976.

Dated this tenth day of Nov. A. D. 1911. James L. Swayer, Administrator of the estate of Charles M. Manley deceased. E. M. Runyard, Attorney. 11w4

THE TALK OF THE TOWN In every man's mouth Single Twist A5-inch hand made 5c. cigar for sale at every place in Antioch. HARRY A. ISAACS, Maker.

Warm Footwear. Women's felt shoes, kid ramps, at $1.50. Women's lined shoes, kid uppers, at 1.50. Women's felt comfort shoes, at 1.75. Woman's felt slippers, at .75. Woman's felt Julietes, at $1.00, $1.25 and 1.50. Children's Julietes, at 75c, 85c, 90c and 1.00. Men's warm lined shoes at 1.75.

Full line of wool-lined rubbers, arctics, etc. ANTIOCH CASH SHOE STORE. GOOD SHOES.

BATTERSHALL'S December Special Bargain Sale. We offer for one week only, at special bargain prices, the following seasonable goods:

GROCERIES. 17 lbs. Granulated sugar, $1.00. 9 bars Lenax soap, .25. 7 bars Wool soap, .25. 10 bars Swift's Pride soap, .25. Baker's Premium Chocolate, lb., .25. 2 pkgs yeast, .05. Richillee seeded raisins, .05. 4 cans corn, .25. 3 pkgs Argo starch, .10. Gold Dust, large size, .17. Corn Flakes, .07. 3 lbs 20-Mule borax, .25.

4 pkgs best mince meat, .25. 4 pkgs Macaroni, .10. Grape nuts, .10. 10 lbs pure Buckwheat flour, .35. Sour pickles per gal., .20.

DRY GOODS. Standard prints, yd., .04-1.2. Best apron ginghams, yd., .08. 6 apools thread, .25. 2 pkgs common pins, best, .05. 2 cards safety pins, .05.

HOLIDAY GOODS. We have the largest and most complete line of Holiday goods we have ever been able to show, consisting of toys, dolls, sleighs, skates, friction and mechanical toys, trains, toy houses and barns. A large line of gift and toy books and popular fiction. Jewelry, domestic and imported cut glass and china. We want you to see our line which we now have on display.

F. D. BATTERSHALL. General Merchandise. Grayslake, Illinois.

J. C. James, Jr. Justice of the Peace and Notary Public

Real Estate Both Farm and Lake Property

Fire Insurance Agent for Several Good Companies. Accident, and Life Insurance, Reasonable Rates and Good Companies.

J. C. James, Jr., Antioch, Ill.

Spectacles Scientifically Fitted. C. F. INGALLS & BRO. Jewelers and Opticians. 112 Genesee St., Waukegan, Illinois.

T. N. DONNELLY & CO. Loan and Diamond Brokers. New Number 21 and 26 North Dearborn St. 118 Dearborn St. Chicago, Ill.

Diamonds, Watches and all kinds of Jewelry at less than cost. At half the price you pay regular stores. Dec 19 01 jf

Lotus Camp No. 557 M. W. A. Meets at 7:30 the first and third Sunday evening of every month in Woodmen hall, Antioch, Ill. Visiting neighbors always welcome. L. M. HUGHES, V. C. J. C. James, Clerk.

BANK OF ANTIOCH. EDWARD BROOK, BANKER. Buy and Sell Exchange and do a General Banking Business.

E. V. ORVIS. Lawyer and Notary Public. Practice all courts. Farm property for sale. Damage suits and collections of wages a specialty. Fire and Life Insurance. 201 Washington Street. Waukegan. Illinois.

SEQUIT LODGE No. 827, A. F. & A. M. Hold regular communications the first and third Wednesday evenings of every month. Visiting Brethren always welcome. W. F. ZIEGLER, W. M. FRANK HUBER, Sec'y.

The Eastern Star, meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month. W. F. ZIEGLER, W. M. MABEL GRIMM, W. M.

M. A. HULETT. VETERINARY SURGEON. ANTIOCH ILLINOIS.

J. C. JAMES, JR. UNDERTAKER. LICENSED EMBALMER. Licensed by the State Board of Health.

We Will Hold a 10 Days Clearance Sale

Grocers Specials	Dry Goods Specials
12 bars Calumet soap 25c	500 yds 15c Best grade Per-calls 12c
8 " Lenox soap 25c	500 yds 8c Apron Gingham 5c
3 " Palmolive soap 25c	300 yds Colored Print 6c
3 cans Corn 25c	100 yds Table Oilcloth 20c
3 " Peas 25c	150 yds Fancy Curtain Scrim worth 25c 17c
3 " Campbell's soup 25c	500 Best Grade Linen Collars 11c
3 " Baked Beans 25c	Mens and boys 15c value 11c
3 Pkgs Mince Meat 25c	300 yds 12c Tonnies Flannel 9c
3 " Corn Flakes 25c	All Children's and Misses' Fleece-lined Underwear 25c
3 6c pkgs Tooth picks 10c
3 lbs Best Jap Rice 25c

GAUGER BROS. & CO

Additional Legislation to Strengthen Present Statutes Is Recommended---Defends Standard Oil and Tobacco Decisions no original suit there were twenty-defendants who were charged with the conspirators through whom the combination acquired and exercised

New Remedies Suggested.—Such is said of the repeal of this statute and of constructive legislation intended to pull down opportunity this suggested for federal incorporation, it seems to me, is suitably constructive legislation needed to fasten the squaring of great industrial prizes to the rule of action laid down by the anti-trust law. This statute must be amended by the Supreme court, must be made the basis of a new business business. It must be enforced, we are to banish individualism from business and reduce it to one common rule of regulation or control of prices that which now prevails with respect to the utility, and which when applied to all business would be a long step toward state socialism.

Legislative Legislation Needed.

WM. H. TAFT

UTNAM

are goods brighter and faster colors than any other garment without rippling apart. Write for

UNO TUMBA

ADOLESS DYES

—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG COMPANY, Quincy, Ill.

RURAL NEWS ITEMS

LAKE VILLA

R. Wendland is on the sick list.

Raymond Sherwood was in Chicago Monday.

Miss Fne. Potter is quite sick with the measles.

Earl Potter and friend of Champaign, spent Thanksgiving here.

Miss Florence Mathews spent last week in Silverlake.

John Leonard of Chicago spent over Thanksgiving at home.

Work was started Saturday morning to erect a new blacksmith shop to be located opposite the factory.

A heavy freight engine of the Soo Line got off the track at the factory switch, which resulted in several hours delay with the early morning passenger.

HICKORY

Bert Edwards spent Thanksgiving in Chicago.

Ruth and Ernest Pollock are on the gain.

Miss Smith spent a few days here last week.

John Kaulf spent last week at Genoa Junction.

O. L. Hollenbeck and wife were in Waukegan Monday.

Miss Eva Edwards visited the home folks last week.

Rev. Glass called on Hickory people last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Taylor visited Hickory friends over Thanksgiving.

Mrs. A. T. Savage and Mrs. Victor Chinn spent Tuesday in Burlington.

RUSSELL

J. Castle and wife are visiting in Chicago.

Clarence Bolton and wife are visiting relatives in Iowa.

Miss Mamie Goodwin visited last week at Sheboygan Falls.

Will Castle of Porterville, Cal., visited his parents here last week.

Mrs. Chas. Parkins and children left Friday for Des Moines, Iowa.

Mrs. Frank Rowbottom is entertaining her sister from Peru, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mordock entertained relatives on Thanksgiving.

BRISTOL

Mrs. E. C. Smith of Evansville, Wis., is visiting here.

A. E. Tarbell, of Bassetts, was an over Sunday visitor here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Foulke on Saturday last a baby boy.

Miss Jessie Shumway was an over Sunday visitor at Wm. Foulk's.

Napkins Known to the Ancients.
The napkin, in its primitive state, found its origin in China. During the Mah-Dshu dynasty (4,000 years ago) the napkins were already in general use; they were of silk or certain kind of linen and canvas; later came the paper napkin.

Too Ready With Assistance.
Smith—"Goldmore is a very generous old fellow. Do you know, he's always helping somebody out?" Jones (sadly)—"Yes, I know; I was down to see his daughter the other night, and he helped me out, too."—Stray Stories.

Gentle Hint.
Professional Beggar (in Hardupp's office)—"I've been out o' work for over a year, mister, and ain't got the price of a night's lodgin'. Can yer do anything to help me out?"
Hardupp (sardonically)—"I'd like to, but I sprained my foot on a collector yesterday."

BARKER'S IS THE MEDICINE FOR Rheumatism, Coughs
Colds, Catarrh and LaGrippe. All Dealers

For Sale by B. H. Ovetron

MILLBURN

Mrs. Jas. Armour, Sr., is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Wm. Mitchell and sons of Waukegan visited their mother a few days.

Mrs. Geo. Dodge and children returned to Canada last week Monday.

A. H. Stewart spent a few days in Chicago last week.

Miss Lucy Spafford spent a few days in Chicago last week.

Olin Cleveland of Chicago spent over Thanksgiving at his home here.

Wm. Bonner and wife returned from their wedding trip last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Geo. Jamieson returned Monday to Rochester. Mrs. Buss's baby is very poorly.

Miss Mayme Cannon is enjoying month's vacation from her school duties at Mt. Carroll, Ill.

Mrs. Emma Hughes of Chicago is visiting her mother here.

Rev. Chas. Blanchard D. D., President of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., will speak at the Millburn church next Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Safford officiated at the wedding of Clayton Lucas and Miss Louise Meyer, both of Wadsworth. They were married at the home of the bride on Thanksgiving day. Congratulations.

Pneumonia claims Mrs. Jessie Armour Luiken who passed away Sunday morning. Mrs. Luiken was born in Scotland, Nov. 1880, and died Dec. 2. At the age of 31 years, 1 month and two days. In the year Feb. 21, 1902 she was united in marriage to Nick Luiken.

She came to this country with her parents in June 1887 and resided at Peotone, Ill. In the year 1906 they bought the Wm. Thom farm near Millburn and have since resided there. She is survived by her husband, three children, father and mother, four brothers and three sisters. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the church. Rev. Safford officiating. Burial at Millburn cemetery.

SALEM

J. Miller of Twin Lakes visited here Monday.

H. Scheloske was a Chicago visitor last week.

P. Moran visited in Woodworth over Thanksgiving.

Miss Ada Stewart was a Racine visitor the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evans had a family reunion Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Julia Johnson went to Racine last week to visit her brother.

H. D. Burdick and wife visited their sister in Kenosha Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Ada Stewart entertained friends from Lake Mills Thanksgiving.

Mrs. M. Acker entertained a lady friend from Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Saul and Mrs. W. Garland of Iowa, visited relatives here last week.

Frank Fuller entertained H. B. Gardner and family of Geneva Thanksgiving.

Ideal Womanliness.
True womanliness consists in women adapting themselves to the world's greatest need.

Never Bettered by War.
No war in which this country has ever engaged has brought the slightest betterment to the homes of the people.—London (Eng.) Express.

Spiders Aid Scientists.
Certain species of spiders are cultivated by scientists on account of the fine but durable thread they weave, the thread being used on delicate astronomical instruments.

Sleep for the Little One.
Twelve hours' sleep is the right of every child under seven years of age, ten hours until ten or twelve years. Many a pale, washed-out looking child of this age owes his ill health to lack of sleep.—Woman's Home Companion.

London's Many Bridges.
In the city of London there are 19 railway bridges, three bridges across roads and 62 across public ways connecting private premises.

Humility Proof of a Great Man.
I believe the first test of a truly great man is his humility. I do not mean, by humility, doubt of his own power, or hesitation in speaking his opinion. But really great men have a curious undercurrent of powerlessness, feeling that the greatness is not in them, but through them.—Ruskin.

'BLUFF' AMONG THE NEGROES

Little Story of a Quarrel That Illustrates Their Love of Flourish and Pose.

Love of bluff is a curious characteristic of the negro. Sometimes the deadly razor becomes active with a vengeance, but countless other times it is merely flourished with frightful threats and boasts of its slashing qualities. These are vanity poses.

One night recently I saw a striking living picture of this kind. I was one of a crowd which got off an early morning elevated train. A negro quarrel was in progress in front of a house on the opposite side of the street and all stopped to watch it. One husky black was about to apply an axe to the cranium of a smaller negro, when an ally of the lesser one threatened the husky individual with a blackjack from behind. Thus it stood—if the axe fell on one skull the blackjack would descend on another. Neither participant seemed willing to "start anything." There was the tableau and it simply died away like a moving picture climax on the screen.

Evidently this scene of inaction overtaxed the patience of the dusky spectators, for they broke the lull by tossing beer bottles at one another. This, too, was without glower. Just as I stepped behind a telegraph pole to avoid the flying glass, an excited old darkey appeared at the door and fired a shotgun over the heads of the disputants.

A peaceful citizen next to me was taken to the hospital and I limped home with bird shot in my legs. The old man's bluff was effective and the careful blacks dispersed, seeking their beds to dream of flocks of chickens and trainloads of watermelons.

Never Changed in Nature.
The bees which may have lived longest in the woods undisturbed by man would if transferred from their wild abode to a hive and brought out to a modern apiary be as much at home and as tractable to man and his methods as any bees in the yard. Their type, habits and instincts remain unchanged whether wild or in so-called domestication.

Had Tested Them.
One evening Grandma sent Johnny to the store to buy matches and told him to hurry, for she wanted to light a lamp. One hour later Johnny returned with the matches. Grandma said: "Johnny, the matches are not good." "Yes, they are," answered Johnny. "I have tried every one; they were all good."

Why Is It Thus?
"We often wonder," says the Springfield Union, "why anyone should put himself to the trouble and expense of going to the Adirondacks or the Maine woods to be shot in mistake for a deer when it is so much easier and more convenient to pick a few mushrooms in a nearby field and die at home surrounded by one's sorrowing relatives."

Good Cement.
From an old notebook comes this recipe for making a cement to mend broken china: Fill a small bottle with ground isinglass and pour over it sufficient unsweetened gin to fill the bottle. Place it on the back of the stove or in a warm place. Immerse in a vessel of hot water until the isinglass is dissolved, and the cement is ready for use.

Something From Nothing.
Some children were once asked by an inspector at a school examination whether they knew the meaning of the word "scandal." One little girl, holding her hand up attracted the notice of the inspector. He desired her to answer the question, upon which she gave this definition: "Nobody does nothing, and everybody goes round telling it."

Femininity Analyzed.
"If a woman took infinite pains to reveal herself to a husband or a lover just as she really is, he would think she was suffering from some incurable mental disease. A few of us indicate our true nature in hysterical outbreaks, fits of bitterness and suspicion; but this involuntary frankness is generally discounted by some subtle deceit."—"The Dangerous Age," by Karl Michella.

Estimation of Genius.
Charles V. asked Michael Angelo one day in what estimation he held Albert Duerer. Then, with all the noble frankness of a man of genius, who knows how to appreciate superior talents, he instantly replied: "I esteem him so highly that I would if I were not Michael Angelo, much rather be Albert Duerer than even Charles V."—Life.

Italics First Used by Venetian.
Italics were first used about A. D. 1500 by Manutius, a Venetian printer, who dedicated them to the Italian states. Hence the name. The first book set up in italics was an edition of Vergil printed at Venice by Aldus in 1501. A copy of this rare book is preserved in the British museum.

Undoubtedly.
The man who is "sober at his best" until he has a few drinks in him, must be very poor at other times.—Exchange.

Something Just as Good.
Peddler—"Can I sell you a watch, dog, mister?" Pedestrian—"Don't need one, my friend. I've the wolf at my door."—Boston Transcript.

SAINT FOR THE JOURNALISTS

Pope Plus IX. Fifty Years Ago, Selected St. Francis De Sales as Their Patron.

It will be news to many journalists to learn that they have an officially selected patron saint. But the Manchester Guardian points out that they have, and have had for the last fifty years. Plus IX., at the request of a number of continental journalists, issued a decree on the point. He recommended journalists to seek the help of St. Francis de Sales, whose body has just lately been transferred, with great pomp and amidst popular rejoicing, to a new church at Annecy, in Savoy, his native place. The choice, our contemporary thinks, was an apt one, for St. Francis was a man of letters. His famous work, "The Devout Life," is still popular, "no doubt because of the lightness of touch with which it is written and the unerring journalistic instinct (if one may put it so) in writing of the work of a saint) with which he compels attention to serious questions by the skillful use of anecdote and illustration."—Westminster Gazette.

Cruelty to Animals.
During the discussion of the difference between the high cost of living and the cost of high living at the Curston club the ancient carpenter vouchsafed the following: "It just seems like everything conspires to make things harder for a man when prices are high. Now, for instance, I know that all of my hens intentionally stop laying when eggs are worth their weight in gold—just when they ought to do their very best!"

"Smoke up! Your pipe's going out!" sarcastically exclaimed the real estate man.

"Fact," continued the ancient carpenter. "But I fooled the critics. I got a sign painted with words, 'Eggs 10 cents a dozen,' and hung it in the coop. Now the hens are laying two and three eggs every day, and some of them are even working nights."—Youngstown Telegraph.

Now the Machine Sermon.
The only ceremony at the funeral of a school teacher in an Austrian village was the rendition by a talking machine of the hymn "Eine Feste Burg," as sung by a chorus of male voices. The incident gave an enterprising firm an idea. They now, according to a circular which has been distributed in the rural districts, are "prepared to furnish for funerals good and appropriate music, either solo, duet or chorus. Our large list includes universal as well as strictly church music." In discussing this enterprise a Vienna paper says that the "machine sermon" has already been introduced, and in conjunction with the "machine music" will make old methods useless. "The talking machine sermon," says the humorist, "has at least these good points:—It must be short and the machine does not weep."

Lighted Him Home.
Two friends who lived in the country were in the habit of dining frequently with one another. One day Jack received an invitation from James to dine with him at the usual hour in the evening. As it happened it was an extremely dark night, and Jack took a stable lantern to enable him to see the way clearly. In due course he arrived quite safely at James's residence, and they dined exceedingly well, but certainly not wisely.

The next morning Jack received a note from James to this effect: "Dear Jack, herewith find your stable lantern. Please return my parrot and cage."

Her Fortune.
Miss Ivy Brayton Hodge, one of the well known women drummers of the west, at a commercial travelers' banquet in Chicago, responded to a toast with these words: "A woman's face is said to be her fortune. In the girl drummer's case, however, it's her cheek."

Japs Prone to Suicide.
There are more suicides in Japan, in proportion to its population, than in any other country in the world.

Made up Your Mind
to trade where you can get the best goods for the least money. Don't be held back by the feeling that you have traded at the old place for years and hate to change. We are the leaders in the shoe business.

Because we keep our stock moving all the time, thus insuring you fresh goods at lowest prices.

J. R. CRIBB
The City Shoe Store

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Makes Tree Do Duty. Ingenious tackle has been devised to make a tree that is being felled pull its own stump from the ground with it.

Good Health Almost Everything. If you have good health you have nine-tenths of all that nature has ever given to any man.

Explanation of Sun's Heat. The reason why the sun retains its heat despite the large amount it gives out is explained by the fact that heat is generated by the fall of particles toward its center.

High Grade Plumbing Sanitary Appliances

W. E. Volkman

STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING

Telephone 462

Estimates Furnished ANTIOCH, ILL.

Get Fix up for the Cold Snap

You don't want your face and hands chapped, cracked, and looking or feeling bad.

Get some good toilet soap, and then some good lotion for the skin. We have a fine assortment all of which are real good. Come in and let us fix you up.

B. J. HOOPER, Druggist

Telephone Connections Lake Villa, Ill.

A HAPPY HOME IN REACH OF ALL

Joy AND SICKNESS DON'T CHUM

TO BE HAPPY KEEP WELL

USE ONLY

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

TO CURE

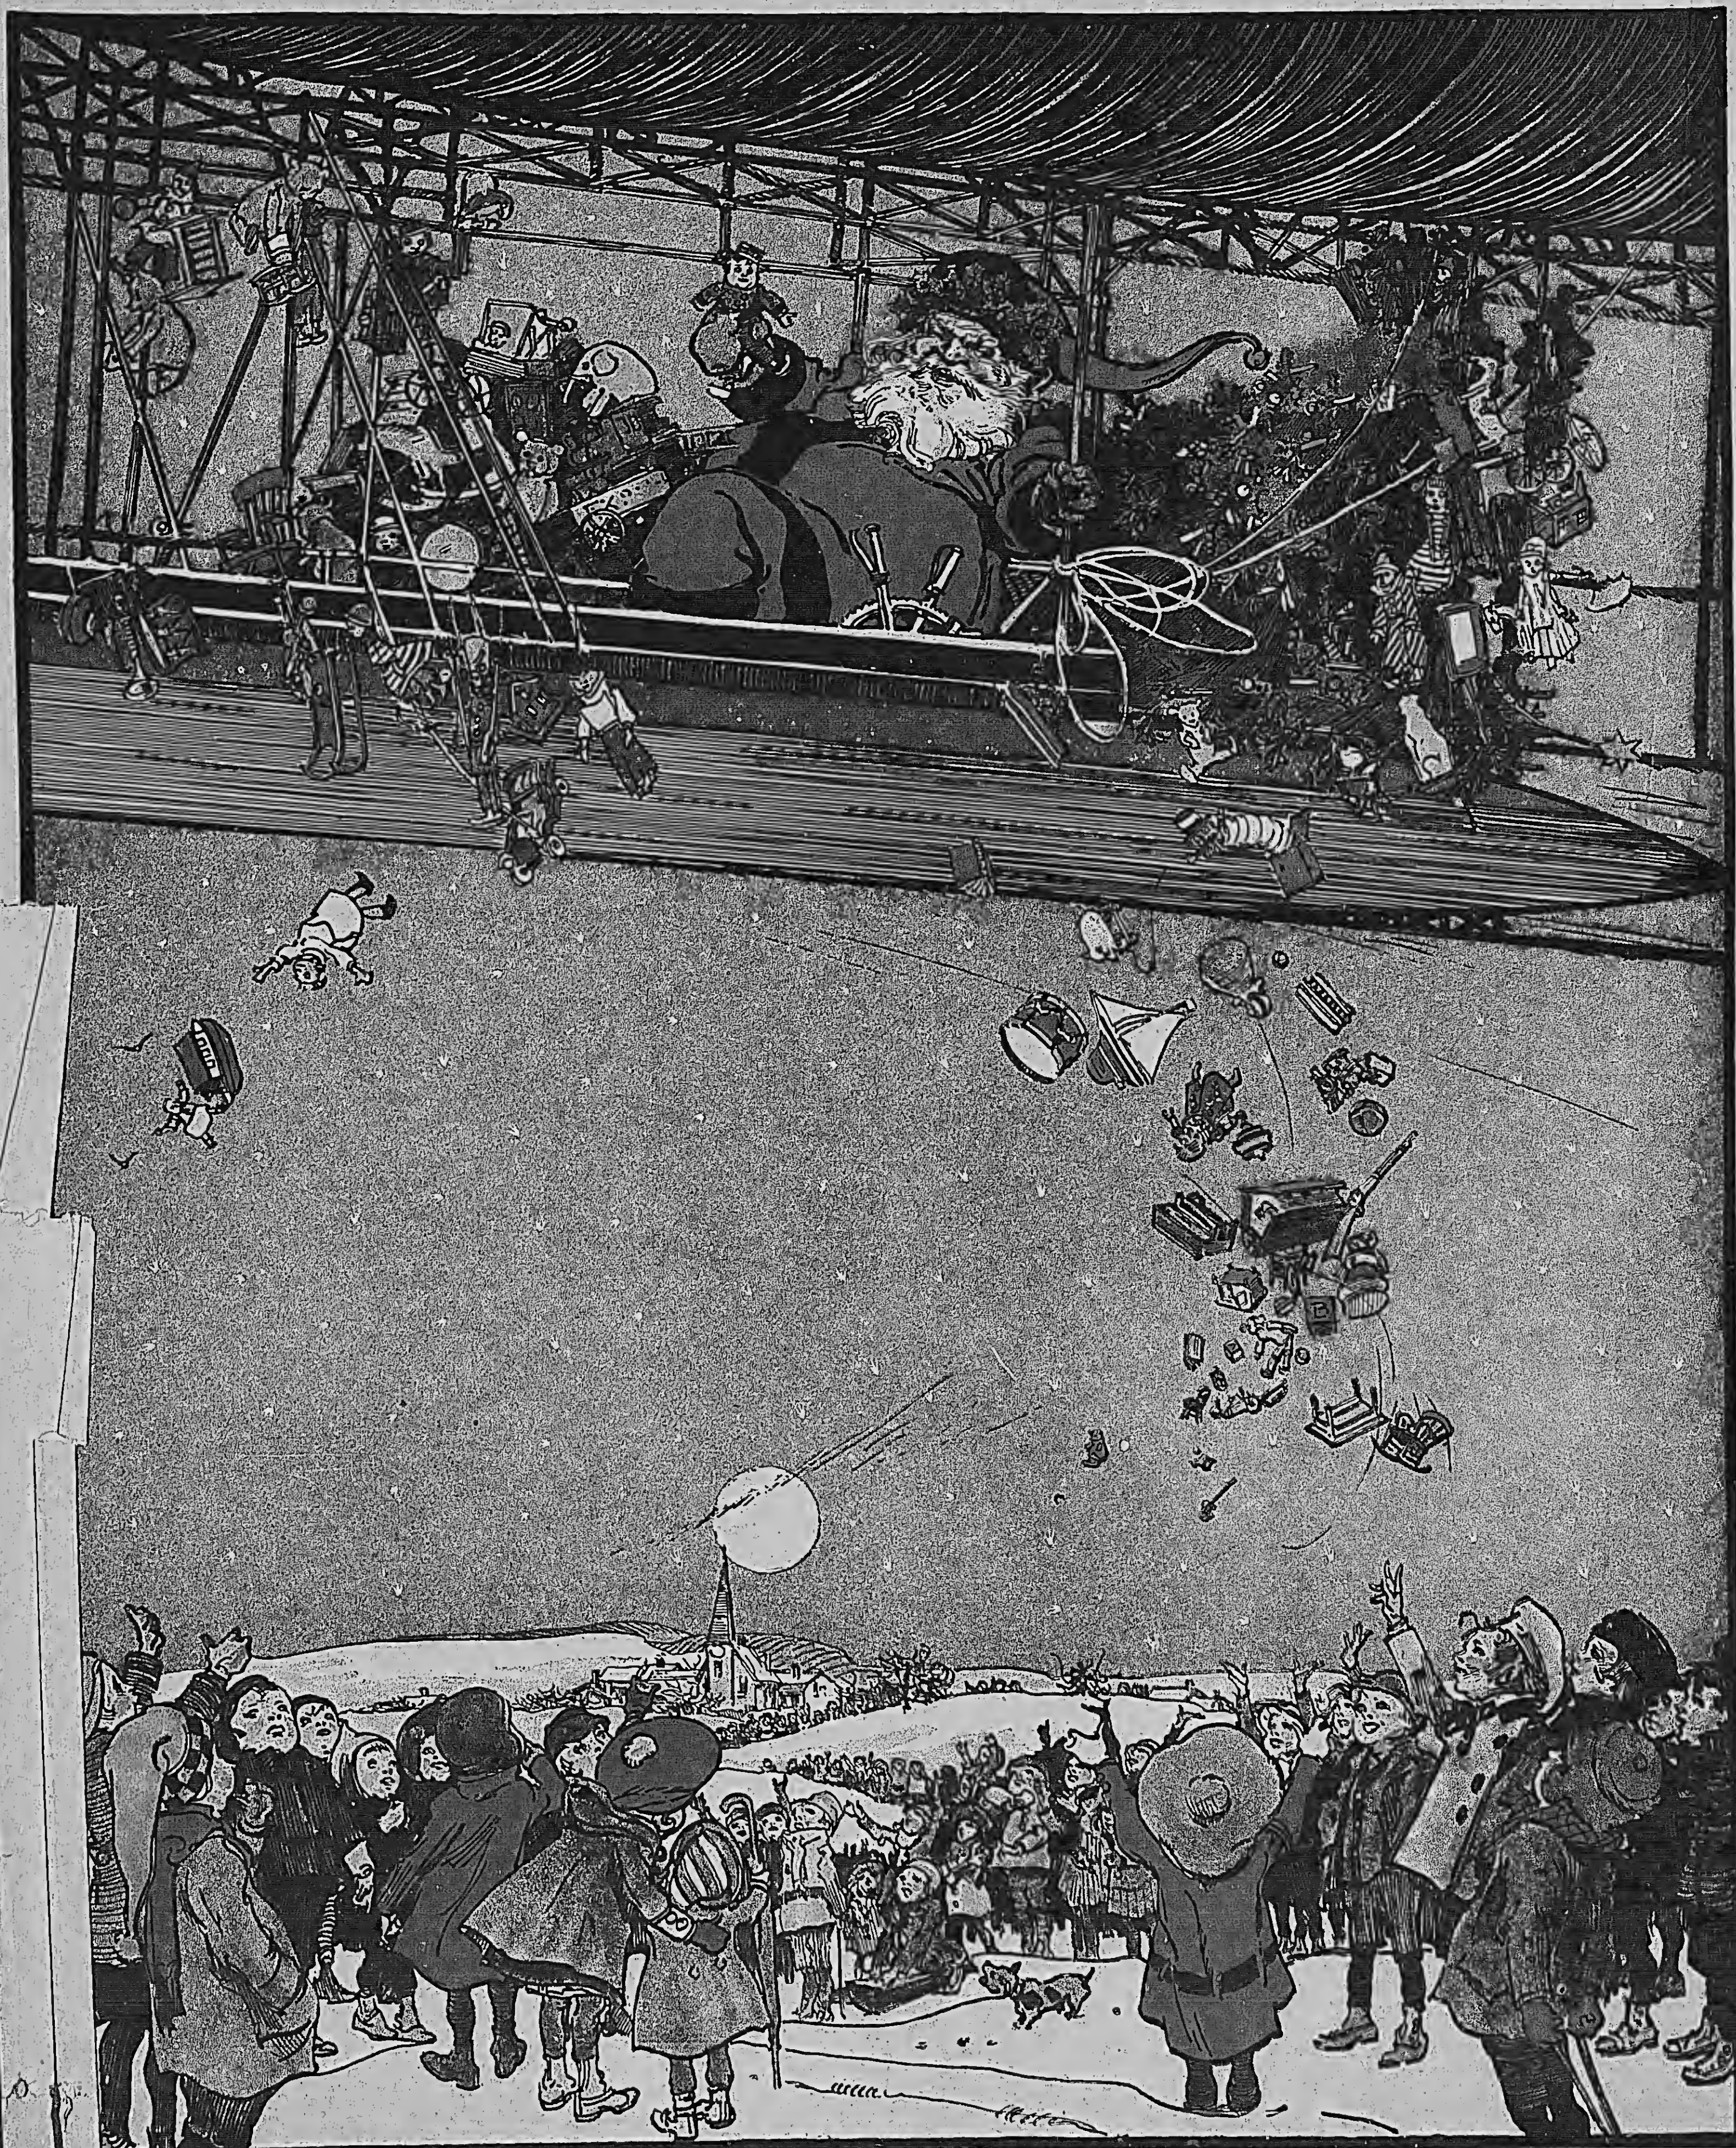

COUGHS AND COLDS WHOOPING COUGH AND ALL DISEASES OF THROAT AND LUNGS

Price 50c and $1.00

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY

Sold by B. H. OVERTON, Druggist

HOLIDAY EDITION
THE ANTIOCH NEWS
TWENTY PAGES

TOYLAND and LIVE PET SHOW

is of special interest to the children and offers the newest and best assortment of Toys. The live pets are an exclusive attraction, and they can be bought as gift for the boy and girl.

GIFT SUGGESTION BOOK FREE

This little book offers you a list of the appropriate gifts for everyone and is full of helpful suggestions. It may save you a good many hours of worry and it is yours if you tell us you want it. Write to-day and it will go out on the next mail.

For the HOLIDAY SHOPPER

The assortment of gift articles offered at Lyon's is very complete. Gifts for the whole family, the practical, usable kind, are shown in every department is in the Basement where all the children are welcome. Bring them in.

Toyland and Live Pet Show

TOYS

To list the entire assortment would be useless for you would have to see them to know about them.

The assortment of Dolls, as complete as any to be found, we want to call your particular attention to.

For 10c you can get a dressed doll that has a perfect bisque head. At 50c there are 10, 12 and 14 inch dolls, fully dressed with bisque heads in many styles.

There are dolls that cry and go to sleep, there are dolls with leather bodies, dolls that are jointed, baby dolls, unbreakable dolls and Teddy Bears.

Doll cabs, huggies and doll supplies are all ready now.

CUT GLASS

There is nothing more appropriate than Cut Glass for the gift to mother. It brings with it the Christmas spirit and is a lasting remembrance. To tell you that the assortment is very complete would be useless, for those of you who have been here know that Lyon's Cut Glass Department is full of best offerings.

Tumblers, cut, of best crystal glass, 20c to 50c.

Bowls of every description from $2.65 up.

Vases for $6.00, $8.00 and some for $3.00.

The hand-painted Parker Studio China is shown with the cut glass and is full of ideal Christmas suggestions.

ALUMINUM

The showing of this best and more popular kitchen and cooking ware is the largest in the county at Lyon's. The special low prices make it the most attractive.

50c sauce pans, 6 inch size, for 39c.

Many other specials that you ought to see.

MUFFLERS AND SWEATERS

Mufflers, Phoenix and silk are shown in greater variety at Lyon's than anywhere in Lake County. They are the advertised kind that must be the best of its kind in order to meet the particular demand. Priced from 25c up.

Sweaters for men are on the first floor. 1.50 to 5.00 and many intermediate prices that cover our assortment.

Ladies sweaters, the most acceptable gifts in all colors and grades from the 298 wool sweaters to the white wool sweaters extra heavy for 12.00. The knit caps that match them are an added touch to the gift. There is nothing that is so fitting and always just the thing desired as a sweater, and we are positive you will enjoy seeing the display.

Wool eiderdown sacks and robes and ladies bath robes is another addition to our already complete Ready-to-wear department. As gifts they have no equal.

Special to Antioch buyers next week. All Suits, Coats and Dresses Half Price. Bring this paper with you and save from $10 to $15

MERCHANDISE

CERTIFICATES

Many of you find it hard to pick out just the gift wanted. This doubt has led us to issue Merchandise Certificates. You can buy them now, have them filled out to any amount desired, and after Christmas at any time they can be redeemed in merchandise from any department. They are worth their face value at a sale or for any goods carried in any department. If you do not know what to give, these pretty gift certificates are the most practical.

GIFTS MADE FOR YOU

Beautiful and useful household articles made up at very small expense to you. If you are in the store next week we will make you a pillow top without charge for the work, but you must bring this paper with you.

Laundry bags of cretonne, of denim, for men, hair receivers, parsons of silkoline, spreads of burlap, denim and cretonne bordered with scrim or edged with lace.

All these beautiful articles made up for you. We do all the work.

The display case in the drapery department is lined with samples that make the finest gifts. You can make them yourself and we will be glad to help you plan them and show you how they are made. Remember that Lyon's drapery section is the best of its kind outside of Chicago.

BAGS AND JEWELRY

Hand bags of leather for 49c.

Velvet bags with fringe, of leather, and with long corded handles priced up to $5.00.

Mirrors, shaving mirrors, shaving mugs and brushes, hand mirrors, metal book racks, metal tie racks, belt pins, beauty pins, pin cushions, hat pin holders, jabots, vanity bags, sewing bags and handkerchiefs great you as you enter the store. They are all in the front department and all unusually appropriate gifts.

APRONS--ALL KINDS

To meet the demand for this ideal gift we instructed our buyers to get a complete line. To show how well they succeeded we are offering prettier aprons, trimmed with lace, and with ribbon bow for less than plainer aprons sold for last year. There is an endless variety from the 25c apron to the lace apron at $1.00. You will find the assortment will meet your approval.

WASHINGTON STREET
THE CHRISTMAS STORE

WASHINGTON STREET

G.R. Lyon & Sons

WAUKEGAN

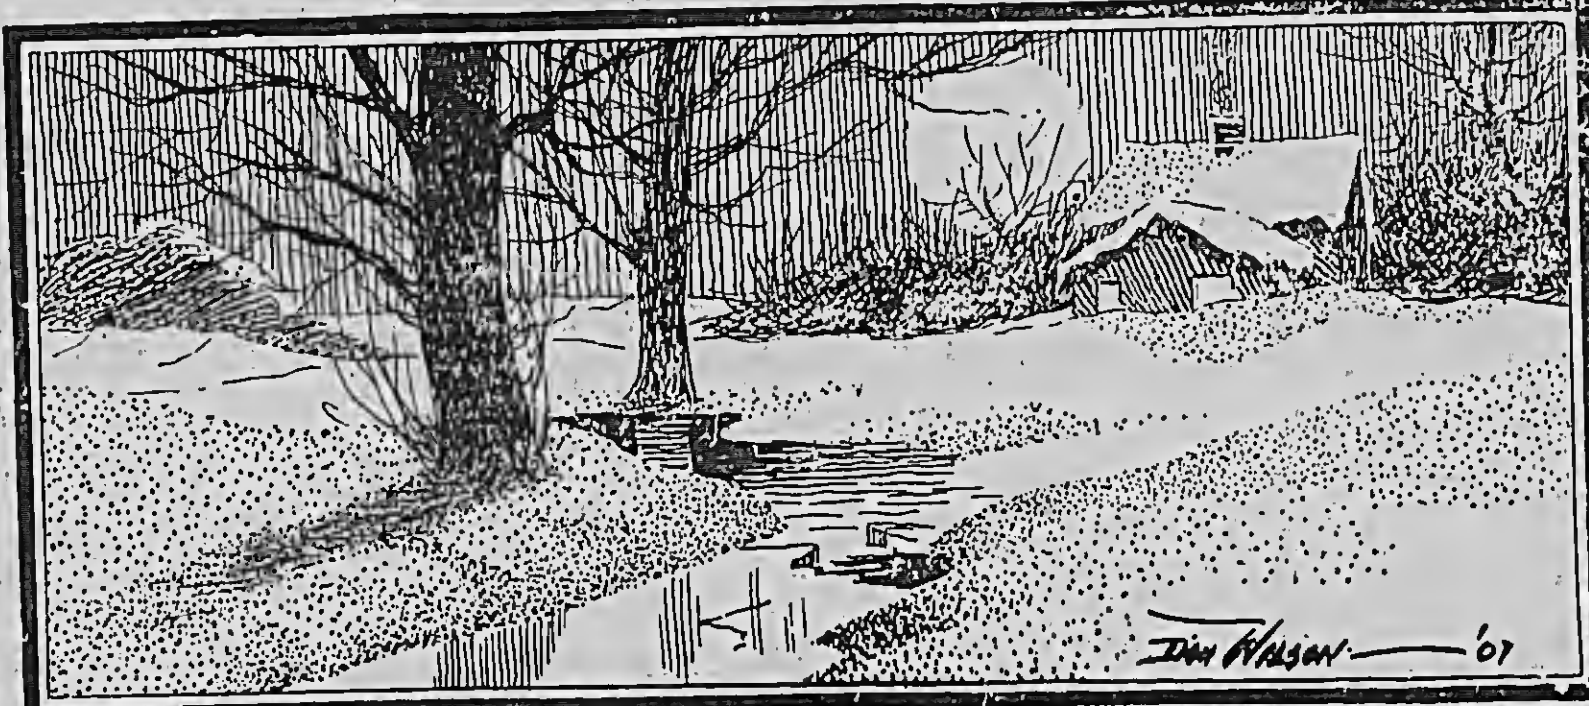

GENESEE STREET

THE CHRISTMAS STORE

GROCERY BARGAINS

If you bring this advertisement with you next week you can get a 49 pounds sack Flour, Purity Brand, for $1.35 with a $2.00 grocery order not including potatoes or flour

Pure Food Market

Suit Cases are Ideal Gifts

The assortment for Christmas has every kind. You can get a leather suit case that looks like leather for 98c

Matting suit cases, leather corners metal handle for $1.35

And so on, we could give you prices up to $15.00. The suit case is a necessity and as a gift brings much pleasure.